VICTORY SURE ON GUAM FOR
U. S. INVADERSATTACKS ON SABANG
AND PALAU ISLAND
REPEATED

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, July 26 (AP)—Raising the toll of slain Japanese to 4,758, American invasion forces in the Marianas have battled half way out on Guam's Orote peninsula against trapped Nipponese and have won the northern fourth of Tinian island, which has a 4,500-foot airfield.

The successes were announced tonight by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz in two communiques.

On Guam, where action is centered around Port Apra on the west coast, the enemy tried to break out of Orote peninsula Monday night. That raised announced totals of enemy dead on Guam to 2,800.

Fine Harbor Sealed
At dawn Tuesday, the Americans moved out on the peninsula which has been pounded hard by battleship guns, carrier planes and artillery.

Behind Port Apra, Yank forces have strengthened the sealing off of that fine harbor, previously accomplished by patrols effecting a juncture from north and south beachheads.

On Tinian, marine conquerors of Saipan won that portion of the island which includes one of the finest airfields in the Marianas. Supported by a battleship, which blew up camouflaged blockhouses, and by strafing planes from nearby Saipan, the Yanks forged a solid line across the northern sector from Palisau San Hilo point on the west coast to Asiga point on the east.

Nimitz said 1,955 Japanese dead had been counted through July 25, third day of the invasion. Many of them hurled themselves in suicidal charges in defense of 4,500-foot Ushi point airfield. Together with its barracks and repair facilities, Ushi is regarded as comparable to Hawaii's Hickam field.

Fire Bombs Used
For the first time, the communiques told of Saipan-based Thunderbolts attacking the enemy with "fire bombs." Others raided Pagan in the northern Marianas.

Carrier plane attacks were reported on Guam and Rota but the communiques made no report on the progress of forces invading Guam.

Earlier reports said assault forces held about 12 miles of Guam's central western coastline.

At the same time radio Tokyo reported an American carrier task force struck at Palau, east of the Philippines, and that an Allied fleet again bombarded Sabang harbor on Sumatra.

The attack on Palau, if confirmed, would be the second by such an American force on that enemy stronghold 500 miles from the Philippines. The first, last March 29, dealt heavy damage to Japanese shipping and aircraft.

No Hope for Japs
The attack on Sabang, reported in a Japanese communique broadcast by Tokyo, had not received Allied confirmation. Sabang, at the western end of Sumatra, was first hit by an Allied fleet last April 19.

Marines and doughboys of the Third Amphibious Corps on Guam already had the assurance of their commander that victory was theirs. After inspecting the frontline, Maj. Gen. Roy S. Geiger said "there's nothing the Japs

Goebbels Tries To Pep
Up German War Effort,
Tells Of Hitler Attack

BY RICHARD KASISCHKE

London, July 26 (AP)—Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels tonight outlined a program for a stepped-up German war effort and urged the battered German nation to rally around Adolf Hitler and "fight and work" to overcome "the present difficult times when almost the entire world is storming against us."

In an effort to reassure the German public, shaken by the historic events of the past week, Goebbels promised once more that a secret weapon soon would be used against the Allies, declared "total war will now become a reality" and said "next month" would begin to show results at the fronts, where Nazi armies have been suffering defeat after defeat.

Speaking over the Berlin radio in his new role of Reich plenipotentiary for total mobilization under Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, Goebbels gave what he said was the full story of the revolt of the Junkers generals and the attempt to assassinate Hitler.

The story in the main conformed to that already told, beginning with Hitler's own version last Thursday night, but added these new assertions:

That the United States as well as Britain and the Soviet Union had a hand in the generals' conspiracy.

That the attempt on Hitler's life was made at his headquarters "just before noon" last Thursday "during his daily discussion of the war situation," and the plotters were tried immediately and executed.

Goebbels promised that "the situation, especially in the east, will soon change in favor of Germany" as a result of new measures to be put into effect by Hitler's decree of yesterday calling for total mobilization under Goering and Goebbels.

Although he said it was "yet too early" to make known the full details of his program, Goebbels disclosed that Heinrich Himmler, newly named commander-in-chief of the army at home, would draft more men, create a new reserve pool and train and equip "many divisions," and that War Production Chief Albert Speer had "devised methods to intensify production."

NO RECOGNITION FOR ARGENTINA

Nation Is Denounced As Deserter To Cause Of Allies

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, July 26 (AP)—The United States tonight denounced Argentina for "deserting the Allied cause" and "deserting the Allied cause" and "deserting the Allied cause."

The denunciation apparently was without precedent for bluntness and strong language. It was issued by the state department after Secretary of State Hull had consulted for several weeks with other American governments.

Copies were sent to all the American governments except Argentina.

A department official said there was "virtual unanimity" among these governments in supporting the principles laid down by Hull for continuing non-recognition of Argentina on the ground of desertion. One or two, it was said, have not given endorsement yet but are expected to do so.

Detroit Edison Rate Hearing Completed

Lansing, July 26 (AP)—The State Public Service Commission today completed its hearing of the City of Detroit's petition for a reduction in the rates of the Detroit Edison company.

Chairman Gilbert T. Shilson of the commission promised a decision "within a very short time."

The city wound up its case with testimony from Richard D. Sullivan, municipal public utilities consultant, that the company could absorb a $1,500,000 annual loss in revenue, resulting from a $10,000,000 rate reduction, by eliminating a $1,500,000 a year post-war reserve charge.

Sullivan argued that the company's normal depreciation reserve charge was large enough to accommodate post-war construction plans.

AIRMEN HELPING
SAVE HENGYANG

Attacks On Nipponese Supply Lines Give Chinese Respite

BY SPENCER MOOSA

Chungking, July 26 (AP)—Chinese troops still clung tenaciously to encircled Hengyang tonight, one month after the Japanese began their siege of the Canton-Hankow rail junction, and with the support of the U. S. 14th Air Force, they had hopes of saving the city.

Hengyang still is considered here as valuable to the Japanese if only for purposes of face-saving. But attacks upon enemy supply lines by Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault's fliers have afforded the necessary breathing spell, during which reinforcements in Hunan and Kwangtung provinces have strengthened Chinese positions along the rail line.

General Chennault's fliers, who have kept up constant attacks in Hunan, during the past month have sunk or damaged 1,104 Japanese supply and troop junks, 516 launches, 24 steamers and other types of river craft.

Comstock Declares Old Democrats Are Fed Up With CIO

Detroit, July 26 (AP)—Former Gov. William A. Comstock, who "took a walk" from new deal leadership along with Alfred E. Smith and Sen. James Reed after his 1932-34 administration, said today the entrance of the CIO political action committee into Michigan Democratic councils may cause other old-line Democrats to follow suit.

"Mr. Roosevelt with his new deal philosophies and practices stole the party from the Democrats back in 1932," Comstock declared, "and it now looks after Michigan's experience in the Chicago convention as if the CIO is in a fair way to steal the Democratic party from Roosevelt and the new deal in this state."

"Even though what happened may have been the result of lethargy and lack of leadership among Democrats of the old days, it looks as if the only place left for 'regulars' to go in this election is with the other party."

FLIERS BACK UP SOVIET ATTACKS

American Planes Based In Russia Destroy 38 Nazi Craft

BY DANIEL DE LUCE

Moscow, July 26 (AP)—American airmen have entered the great battle against the Germans on the eastern front, it was disclosed today with announcement that Lightnings and Mustangs flying from U. S. bases in the Soviet Union destroyed 38 German planes yesterday in an offensive sweep in the Lwow region in direct support of the Red army.

It was the first time that American airmen had struck directly at the enemy in a battle zone on the eastern front, although strategic bombing attacks have been made using bases in Russia.

The Americans, attached to the U. S. 15th Air Force, which is based in Italy, shot down 29 enemy aircraft in combat and destroyed nine others on the ground. No American craft were lost.

Ice Cream Output To Be Cut Aug. 1

Washington, July 26 (AP)—Ice cream production will be cut still further Aug. 1.

The War Food Administration announced today that manufacturers will be limited to 85 per cent of the milk solids used in the corresponding months of 1942. During the past three months, quotas were 75 per cent.

Ice cream made after Aug. 1 also will be less rich than that made during May, June and July. Maximum milk solids content of frozen dairy foods will be 22 per cent compared with 24 during the May-July period.

WORKER ELECTROCUTED

Flint, Mich., July 26 (AP)—Robert Hayden, 41, of Midland, was electrocuted today while helping to repair a machine at the AC Spark plug division of General Motors Corp. here. Coroner J. K. Sutherland said Hayden neglected to cut a switch and 440 volts passed through his body. Hayden was the son of James Hayden, city treasurer.

NARVA TAKEN;
REDS ARE AT
WISLA RIVERRUSSIANS PREPARE TO OUTFLANK
WARSAW

BY W. W. HERCHER

London, Thursday, July 27 (AP)—Russian troops, having reached the Wisla (Vistula) river on a 30-mile front in central Poland, fought today for bridgeheads on the western bank which would outflank Warsaw, 57 miles to the northwest, and place them across the last large natural defense line guarding Germany, 140 miles away.

While these sagging Nazi defenses on the Wisla underwent the scourge of Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's massed forces, the north Baltic front split open with Soviet capture of the Estonian city-fortress of Narva and neighboring towns on the south shores of the Gulf of Finland, and the Germans and their Hungarian puppets in the south reeled back into the Carpathian mountain passes below encircled Stanislaw and Kolomyja on the routes to Czechoslovakia.

Garrisons Doomed
Up and down the Wisla from Dablin the first great round of the battle of Warsaw was being fought, with the Poles eagerly anticipating that they might be the first liberating army to march into that enslaved capital.

But the eight great Red army groups were carrying the main weight of the tremendous offensives which, besides ground garrisons of Stanislaw, Lwow, Brest Litovsk, Bialystok, Dargavits (Dvinsk) and probably also Kaunas.

From north to south, the main battlefronts presented this picture, as described by Moscow accounts, the Soviet communique and German admissions:

Narva, a fighting fortress throughout its 600 years of existence, was taken by flanking movement and storm after having been partly encircled since the Leninist armies cleared the Germans from that big city's fringes last February.

East of Warsaw the Germans were struggling to stabilize their line somewhere between Warsaw and the Siedlice area, 40 to 50 miles from the capital, while the

Buyers Are Warned Against Land Boom

Washington, July 26 (AP)—Concerned over a new land boom, the agriculture department raised a cautioning hand today to prospective purchasers of farm real estate.

Would-be buyers were told in a report on current developments in the farm real estate market, that they should realize that the present period of favorable prices and ready markets for agricultural products—prime factors in the land markets—may be drawing to a close.

In many areas, the report said, farm values have advanced far beyond averages likely to be maintained if prices of farm commodities return to pre-war levels.

Secretary of Agriculture Wickard has on several occasions warned that the present situation corresponds in many ways to the runaway land market of World War I, which was followed by a collapse in land values and ruin for many who had bought at inflated prices.

LAND DEAL AUTHORIZED

Lansing, July 26 (AP)—The State Administrative Board today authorized the expenditure of $22,750 to buy land for a new auditorium for the Michigan College of Mining and Technology.

The land covers the westerly half of a block bounded by the campus, College and Houghton avenues and Hubbell Street and Upland Road.

The Roving Reporter

By ERNIE PYLE

IN NORMANDY, (by wireless)—One of the things the layman doesn't hear much about is the ordnance department. In fact it is one of the branches that even the average soldier is little aware of except in a vague way.

And yet the war couldn't keep going without it. For ordnance repairs all the vehicles of an army and furnishes all the ammunition for its guns.

Today there are more vehicles in the American sector of our beachhead than in the average sized American city.

And our big guns on an average heavy day are shooting up more than 10,000,000 worth of ammunition. So you see ordnance has a man-sized job.

Ordnance personnel is usually about six or seven per cent of the total men of an army. That means we have many thousands of ordnance men in Normandy. Their insignia is a flame coming out of a retort—nicknamed in the army "The Flaming Union."

Ordnance operates the ammunition dumps we have scattered about the beachhead. But much bigger than its ammunition mission is ordnance's job of repair. Ordnance has 25,000 items in its catalog of parts, and the mere catalog itself covers a 20-foot shelf.

In a central headquarters here on the beachhead a modern filing system housed in big tents keeps records on the number and condition of 500 major items in actual

Cassino Veterans
Close In On Open
City Of FlorenceCLASHES OCCUR
IN CRAFT TRIAL

BY NOLAN NORGAARD

Rome, July 26 (AP)—Spearheaded by New Zealand veterans of Cassino, Eighth army forces smashed today within eight miles of the open city of Florence, which was expected to fall without a struggle once its outer defenses were breached.

The Berlin radio said July 1 that Adolf Hitler had declared Florence an open city to protect its "irreplaceable cultural values," and there has since been no report of Allied planes having attacked the city's rail yards.

New Zealand tanks and infantry, stabbing forward five miles in two days of bitter fighting against Nazi parachute troops, were reported closing on the highway town of San Casciano, less than eight miles south of Florence.

(A German military commentator broadcast that a "full-scale" Allied attack was launched south of Florence.)

Up to now, that historic building and monuments might be spared, no artillery fire has been directed against the city.

But with the machine-gun, mortar and self-propelled rocket fire being poured across the Arno river upon American positions in the southern section of the city, Major Arthur Peterson of Indianapolis, Ind., a divisional artillery officer, declared:

"If it becomes enough of a military objective to outweigh public opinion, we will have to fire upon it."

Peterson added that a full report had been submitted to higher officers and that a decision was being awaited.

Finance Firm Official Accused Of Telling "Deliberate Lie"

Mason, July 26 (AP)—John E. Hancock, whom the prosecution describes as treasurer of a "slush" fund for bribing members of the 1939 Michigan legislature, took the witness stand today to testify in his own defense in the legislative graft trial.

He followed George Omacht, another of the finance company defendants on trial, who was subjected to four hours of wrangling cross examination by Special Prosecutor Kim Sigler, in which Omacht declared he "wouldn't believe" key prosecution witnesses and Sigler accused Omacht of telling a "deliberate lie."

Hancock, Omacht and three other officials of finance companies are on trial with 17 members of the 1939 legislature, on charges of conspiracy to corrupt the writing of statutes affecting the finance company business.

Hancock, Detroit branch manager of the Associates Discount Corp., acknowledged in his testimony that he served as the treasurer of a $7,250 fund which he said was raised by assessment of finance companies participating in the venture, but he denied there was any thought on their part of using the money to pay graft.

He was still on the witness stand when court adjourned for the day, and still was to be questioned concerning his authorship of the celebrated letter in which he advised the lobbyist, Major Charles F. Hemans, that he was seeking "blood donors" for the lobby, and about details of the lobbying fund.

TRIPLE KILLING ORPHANS GIRLS

Jealous Father Shoots Mother-In-Law, Wife And Himself

Flint, Mich., July 26 (AP)—Two sisters in their early teens were orphaned today when their father, incensed over fancied attentions of his war-working wife to a soldier overseas, killed her and her mother and then himself.

Detective Lieut. Floyd Sidell said the sisters, Sonya Belgers, 12, and Simone, 12, escaped a similar fate by fleeing to a neighbor's home as their father, Joseph P. Belgers, 40, pursuing them, went to a different neighbor's place.

The mother, Mary, 38, and her mother, Mrs. Emily Schuler, 64, were shot to death at the home about midnight. At the rear of a neighborhood store the body of Belgers was found on his person were a butcher knife and a hunting knife, beside him the gun.

Lieut. Sidell said Belgers had borrowed a rifle to carry out a previously voiced threat to "kill the whole family." Belgers used expanding bullets in the rifle, Sidell said. Police sought to determine where he obtained both the gun and the bullets.

Police said the Belgers' home life had been quarrelsome for years and the husband had been jealous over his wife's correspondence with a soldier who had been a co-employee at the plan where she worked.

Soldier Vote Will Be Large In State

Lansing, July 26 (AP)—Secretary of State Herman H. Dignam said today that the increasing flood of applications for absent voter's ballots for servicemen indicated the soldier vote in the November general election will be substantially larger than anticipated.

Dignam said between 40,000 and 45,000 servicemen have asked his office for ballots and he estimated another 10,000 requests have gone directly to county clerks. Earlier estimates of the soldier vote ranged from 5,000 to 25,000.

Dignam said 1,000 applications received one day this week marked the peak to date, and that he had to increase the staff assigned to process them.

TANKS RIDDEN
BY AMERICANSNAZI LINE BROKEN;
14 FRENCH TOWNS
ARE LIBERATED

BY JAMES M. LONG

Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Force, Thursday, July 27 (AP)—A great combined American tank and infantry assault smashed through the German first and second defense lines and into rear artillery positions west of St. Lo Wednesday, scoring gains up to five miles deep through a four-mile-wide breach in the Nazi positions.

At least 14 towns, including two important road junctions, fell in the drive, which outflanked the stubborn Nazi line running northward to the coast.

On the eastern flank of the Allies' Normandy beachhead the British-Canadian offensive bumped to a standstill against the toughest defense belt yet encountered, and press dispatches reaching London early today reported a serious setback in the Orne-Ordon wedge where the British were said to have been hurled from the town of Esquay and strategic hill 112. This dispatch remained without headquarters confirmation.

Highway Cut
The new push in its second day was "marked by a precision and cooperation among armored infantry, artillery and air units not reached by any American army thus far in the war," Associated Press Correspondent Wes Gallagher wrote from the front late last night.

The Americans cut the highway from St. Lo to Coutances near St. Lo and made their deepest inland penetration of the invasion, leaving in their wake uncounted dead and captured of the badly mauled Nazi 352nd Infantry and Third parachute divisions.

The assault, with doughboys riding tanks into battle like cowboys on steel ponies, breached the enemy line between St. Lo and Periers, badly mauling the enemy divisions in a hailstorm of tank fire, bullets, artillery shells, and bombs from the sky.

Marigny Captured
The American First army was attacking all along a 20-mile front from Lessay inland—in its biggest blow since Cherbourg and possibly since D-Day—and the breadth and force indicated at least a corps was in action.

(An army corps is at least two divisions and probably more.)

The U. S. armored fist crashed through the outer crust of German defenses, and in flaming street battle against Nazi panzers including giant 52-ton tanks captured Marigny, road junction town seven miles west of St. Lo, and just above the St. Lo-Coutances highway.

Three miles nearer St. Lo, other elements seized St. Gilles astride that main lateral highway.

Marigny's fall put the Americans within 10 miles of Coutances, large German rear base near the western coast. Lessay, the enemy's present western anchor, is 12 miles due north of Coutances, and U. S. assaults there today could gain only 100 to 200 yards against fierce German counterattacks.

Rommel Pinned Down
The German command again was committing large forces to this battle area, and one dispatch said reinforcements were being shifted from as far as the Caumont sector, 20 miles to the west.

A high British staff officer declared "Rommel is definitely pinned down in Normandy and can't retreat. He's got to stay here and fight to the bitter end."

While the American tank offensive

RAINFALL ENDS DROUTH PERIOD

Moisture Helps Crops;
Forest Fire Hazard
Is Decreased

Rain starting yesterday morning and continuing all day ended a period of drouth and brought needed relief to crops on farms, and to tinder-dry forest lands in Delta county.

To 6 o'clock last night, .81 of an inch of rain had fallen, it was reported by Henry Hathaway, meteorologist at the Escanaba office of the U. S. Weather Bureau.

The rainfall was slow and steady, permitting the moisture to soak into the ground with very little run-off. There were rising winds later in the day with forecast for fresher breezes during the night.

Farmers and gardeners welcomed the coming of rain. While oat crops generally in the county were expected to be light because of the dry period, the rainfall is expected to help some in filling out the heads of later varieties.

Forest and grass fires in the city and county that had plagued fire fighters for several days were extinguished completely by the rain. The high fire hazard condition that existed for a week or more was broken, and wild berry crops in the woodlands were expected to be benefited by the moisture.

sive speared through the German defenses, other U. S. troops were limited to advances of 100 to 200 yards in engagements in the Lessay and Periers areas. The Germans threw in four counterattacks.

The tank offensive, including in it some veterans of Africa and Sicily, jumped off after a heavy aerial bombardment and artillery fire.

The push barged over and beyond the St. Lo-Periers road. In places the Germans pulled back so quickly they could not mine and booby-trap the roads.

Early experiments in dive-bombing were conducted by U. S. Marines in Haiti in 1920.

Deputy Scout Head Perry A. Lint Dies; Former Escanaban

PERRY A. LINT

Port Chester, N. Y., July 26 (AP)—Perry A. Lint, 60, deputy chief scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America and a leader in the movement for almost 30 years, died today in United hospital.

A resident of Harrison, N. Y., Lint served as scout executive in the Greater New York area from May 1917 until last January.

He started as an assistant scoutmaster at Escanaba, Mich., in 1915 and was scout executive at Columbus, Ohio, from 1920 to 1926, when he was named regional scout executive for the area including Kentucky, Ohio and West Virginia. In 1931 he was chosen scout executive of the Chicago council.

A native of Dayton, Ohio, Lint was graduated from the University of Michigan and the University of Chicago. He was principal for nine years of high schools at Escanaba and Norway, Mich.

After leaving Escanaba in April, 1918, Lint went to Camp Grant and was stationed there one month with the Y. M. C. A. He then went overseas for five months and acted as education and entertainment director for the Y. M. C. A. for the territory around Le Mans, France. Later he was employed by the U. S. Army at Coblenz, Germany, as co-director of the Educational Corps of the Army of Occupation. While there, he met several former Escanaba high school students, including Carroll Rushton, Edward Brotherton and George Perrin.

In July, 1919, Lint returned to the United States, and became scout executive for the Boy Scouts of America, at Columbus, Ohio, which position he held for five years. He then became regional scout executive for the Boy Scouts of America for Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia. After serving in that capacity for five years, he moved to Chicago.

BOMBERS RANGE OVER NAZILAND

Disaster Rains On Reich
From All Directions;
Stuttgart Pounded

BY ERNEST AGNEW

London, Thursday, July 27 (AP)—Allied bombers were sweeping over the Reich early today from virtually every direction, the German radio reported. In what appeared a continuation of the galling three-cornered blasting Nazi strategic targets have been given on preceding nights.

Various German broadcasts told of the approach of formations of bombers over East Prussia, the Kiel Bay, western, northwestern and southern Germany as well as the lower Danube region.

After giving the great naval base of Kiel a crushing blow Sunday night, the RAF slashed at Stuttgart twice in succession, dropping more than 2,000 tons of explosives and fire bombs on the precision tool center Tuesday night. Russian bombers have hit the important railroad center of Tilsit in East Prussia twice in a row and Mediterranean bombers at the same time ranged into the Rhine valley and the Munich area.

North Delta 4-H Club Holds Party

Rapid River, Mich.—On Tuesday evening the 4-H club of North Delta held a party at the home of Mrs. Albert Whybrew. During the regular business meeting a demonstration was given by Donald Harris on making a halter for a calf and on rope splicing. The club also voted to elect a club member to attend Camp Shaw. Donald Harris was selected. A party was planned to raise funds for the purpose of paying the expenses of club members to Camp Shaw. The party will be held on Saturday, August 5.

E. A. Willette, emergency food production and preservation assistant, was present at the meeting and discussed with the members 4-H club work, Camp Shaw, and County Achievement Day.

Following the business meeting, games, singing and dancing were enjoyed by the boys and girls. A delicious lunch was served.

can do now to run us off." The American lines ran from a point opposite Anaa Island, at the southern end, in a general northward direction across the base of Orote peninsula to the vicinity of Agana, peacetime capital of the American island, which was seized by the Japanese a few days after Pearl Harbor. The line penetrated inland as much as three miles in some places.

Pockets Cleaned Out

At about the center of Apra Harbor, the best anchorage in the Marianas, Orote peninsula, flanking the harbor on the south, had been isolated with its airfield and enemy garrison.

American warships and planes blasted the trapped Japanese on Orote and a front line dispatch indicated the probability of a ground thrust into the depths of the peninsula to capture the airfield and wipe out the enemy force there.

At the northern end of the front the invaders cleared pockets of resistance and consolidated gains in moving on Agana, blackened and flattened by pre-invasion naval and air bombardment.

The Yanks who vaulted from conquered Saipan to Tinian, 125 miles north of Guam, last Sunday, had good progress toward overrunning Ushi point airfield. Part of it already has been described the field as the best in the Marianas, comparable to Hickam Field in Hawaii.

NARVA TAKEN; REDS ARE AT WISLA RIVER

Russians announced the capture of Biala Podlaska, 65 miles eastward, tightening the ring around Brest Litovsk.

Troop Trains Burned
Warsaw's suburban rail junction town of Prage was heavily bombed by the Red air force Tuesday night, as was Tilsit, east Prussian town, where four German troop trains were burned.

The battle of extermination being waged in the streets of Lwow made progress, aided by American planes that flew from Russian bases.

Of all the Russian successes, however, the one of greatest early promise appeared to be that on the Wisla river, replete with the threat to Germany itself and presenting another of the now-famous Russian by-passing actions.

A German radio spokesman gave this status explanation of the Nazi plight:

"The Russians, by attacking where large scale operations should not have been undertaken," pierced lightly-held German lines, and "the whole prudently-calculated German defense system was threatened; the threat of encirclement in the grand style arose."

He admitted that "nothing that can be compared with the power and extent of the forces and material resources of the present Soviet offensive has ever been seen at any moment of this war."

BY W. W. HERCHER

London, July 26. (AP)—The power and scope of the current Russian offensive are so great that London military circles are discussing seriously the possibility that the Nazis will be unable to make a firm stand against the Red army until they reach the Oder River line running well inside Germany.

If the Wisla River line fails to hold, the next important river barrier is the Oder which, as it approaches the sea, runs only 25 miles northeast of Berlin.

On the basis of the most conservative military opinion here, the Nazis may find it expedient to evacuate most of Poland, swinging from the Carpathian Mountain barrier to the line of the Oder, which runs from Breslau on the south through Frankfurt in the center to Stettin on the north.

Strategic withdrawals will be necessary in any case with such a deep and dangerous salient driven into the heart of Poland. The Narva sector in Estonia on the northern tip of the eastern front is one of the areas from which the Germans are withdrawing. They are giving numerous other places to the Russians without a fight in order to straighten the lines and prevent on outflanking.

In central Poland the retreat has become a full flight.

The political significance of the Russian victories is in calculable. They will give the Soviet Union the strongest possible hand when the time comes to build a new Poland and, with the United States and Britain, to settle the fate of Germany.

Around its captured German generals Russia has built up a substantial anti-Nazi element which may give a hand in the administration of German affairs if the Red army reaches Germany before the American and British Allies. There is no free German organization of comparable strength in Britain.

MISSING IN ACTION

Ironwood — Cpl. Waldemar Knoll, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Knoll, 709 East Ayer street, has been missing in action in France since June 21, his parents were informed yesterday by the war department.

Cpl. Knoll entered the army in February, 1943, and was stationed most of the time while in this country at Camp McCain, Miss., and on maneuvers in Louisiana. He went overseas May 10 and was in England until the invasion. He was graduated from St. Ambrose high school in 1941 and attended Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton until he entered the services. His father is general superintendent of the Youngstown Mines Corporation here.

The first permanent settlement in the New World was founded by Samuel Champlain in 1608.

ARMY EXTENDS WORKING WEEK

Production To Be Upped
By Nine-Hour Day,
54-Hour Week

Washington, July 26 (AP)—The army, setting the pace in its campaign to step up production of critical equipment and supplies, ordered a six-hour increase today in the working week of all army service forces personnel in headquarters organizations and in arsenals and depots with a backlog of unfinished work. They will have a nine-hour day, 54-hour week.

Effective immediately, Lt. Gen. Brehon Somervell also banned all leaves of absence or vacations for the 1,300,000 military and civilian personnel of the service forces.

The move followed repeated urging from the military that civilian industry step up production. Earlier this month, the war department declared its monthly goals of war goods deliveries are not being met and two weeks ago Assistant Secretary of War Robert Patterson reported that production of army weapons and equipment was $400,000,000 behind schedule in the second quarter of this year.

The order specifically exempted plants already working three full shifts a day, and determination of its application to other establishments was left to commanding generals of the services such as ordnance and chemical warfare operating them, and to the commanding generals of the service commands.

Since the normal working week of 40 hours applies to civilian employees of the army as well as to workers in private industry, the order will have the effect of giving time and one-half pay for a total of 14 hours of overtime each week to all civilian workers affected. The pay of military personnel will not be increased.

Liquor Commission Orders Drinks Cut Off For Armistice

Lansing, July 26 (AP)—Seeking to prevent an improper public celebration of the war's end, the state liquor control commission today instructed all establishments selling alcoholic beverages to stop such sales for 24 hours upon receipt of word an armistice has been declared with either of the nation's major enemies.

The order covers the sale of beer, heavy wines and hard liquors for sale either on or off the premises.

Tire Allocation Cut In Two For August

Washington, July 26 (AP)—The August allocation of heavy truck and bus tires for civilian needs will be 60,000 casings as compared with the July quota of 135,000, the Office of Price Administration announced tonight.

Despite an emergency situation reported by truck and bus operators, the War Production Board ordered the deep slash at a special session at which members agreed the army's requirements for heavy tires "must be met at all costs."

The board said the decision was necessary even though it "involves serious risks in the field of absolutely essential civilian transportation."

Peninsula Post-War Planning Group To Meet At Houghton

Lansing, July 26 (AP)—The State Planning Commission will meet with its Upper Peninsula advisory committee in Houghton August 18 to outline a definite program for the post-war economic development of the Upper Peninsula. Don Weeks, director of the planning commission, said today.

The advisory committee includes 26 industrial leaders and specialists. Grover C. Dillman, president of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton is general chairman.

WILD GAME HELPS

Lansing, July 26 (AP)—Michigan residents and visitors killed 13,617.366 pounds of edible meat in last year's hunting season, an increase of more than 400,000 pounds over the previous year, the state conservation department said today in a wild-life "harvest report."

The majority of the population of Turkey is engaged in or dependent on agriculture.

Truck Operators Must Keep Record

Operators of commercial motor vehicles are required to keep records of the operation of all vehicles covered by Certificates of War Necessity, although they may use simplified forms of their own, the Office of Defense Transportation has announced.

While the ODT feels that records of miles traveled, motor fuel used and tire inspections made are more necessary today than ever before, such records may be kept on forms suitable to the convenience of the operators, it was explained.

Forms 17 and 17-A, formerly required by the ODT to report operations and tire inspections, have been cancelled and will no longer be supplied. Operators still having a supply of these forms, however, may continue to use them, the ODT said. All records will be subject to periodic inspections by ODT officials.

Primary education is obligatory for all Turkish children between 7 and 16.

MOTHERS: THE FLETCHER'S CASTORIA NOW ON SALE IS SAFEGUARDED THREE WAYS!

Look for the Serial Control Number on each bottle

EVERY BOTTLE of Fletcher's Castoria—now on sale at your drug-gist's—bears a Serial Control Number.

This number is plainly visible through a "window" in the new package. It is your guarantee that Fletcher's Castoria is safeguarded by three different kinds of rigid tests... chemical, bacteriological, and biological.

Here's how you can easily identify the new package:

The Green Band... Around each package is a brilliant green band. This band quickly identifies the triple-tested Fletcher's Castoria now on sale.

The Serial Control Number... The Serial Control Number is on the bottle label. You can see it through a "window" in the outside carton.

We think that this visible evidence of quality and reliability... the Serial

Control Number on each bottle... will be welcomed by millions of mothers who have long used Fletcher's Castoria as the ideal laxative for children.

And we think that millions of mothers will be glad to know that Fletcher's Castoria—the laxative made especially for children—is now on sale at their drug-gists'.

For this is the original and genuine Fletcher's Castoria... the laxative that's mild and gentle, yet effective... the laxative that's pleasant-tasting, so you don't have to "force" your child to take it.

Ask for Fletcher's Castoria the next time your child needs a laxative.

Note: Until sufficient stocks can be made available, your drug-gist may not have enough Fletcher's Castoria on hand to meet all demands. If he happens to be out of stock when you ask for Fletcher's Castoria, please be patient. He will have it for you shortly.

THE MAKERS OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

FARMERS DAY ON AUGUST 4

Dairy Program Will Be Presented At Chatham

An interesting dairy program is promised farmers' day visitors to the Upper Peninsula Experiment Station, Chatham, on August 4, by G. S. McIntyre, livestock specialist at the station. R. E. Horwood, formerly extension specialist in dairying for the Upper Peninsula will speak as will E. C. Scheidenhelm and Joseph Sykes. All three men are on the dairy staff at Michigan State College. The dairy program takes place immediately after the main speaking program at Camp Shaw.

The station Holstein herd will be one of the interesting sights for visitors. Started in 1912 with cows purchased from southern Michigan, no female additions have been made to the herd since other than offspring from the original cows. Improvement has come through the selection of bulls. The small herd of 15 to 18 milking cows is carried as a practical farm herd, being milked twice daily and fed insofar as possible, home grown grains and roughages. A long-time feeding experiment is now being carried on using soy bean meal as a protein supplement with one group and ground soy beans for the same supplement with another group. So far no advantage has been seen in favor of the whole beans. The herd is also used for class work at gatherings such as 4-H camps and contests of vocational agricultural students.

One point stressed in the management of the Chatham herd is that of health. When the tuberculin test for cattle was developed, it was applied to this herd and it has been on the accredited list since. The same thing has been true of Bangs disease. A reactor to this disease has never been found so that the herd is accredited as free from this disease. It is also one of the first herds to be examined for mastitis in the Upper Peninsula and one of the first institutional herds in the United States to be found free from this trouble more than eight years ago. The health of the herd is under the supervision of Dr. F. K. Hansen, deputy state veterinarian of Marquette.

PRISON ESCAPES ARE DISCUSSED

Col. Miller Addresses Rotary Club At Marquette

Marquette—Attempted escape of German prisoners of war in the Upper Peninsula are not too seriously considered by U. S. Army officers because "attempting to escape is a prerogative of prisoners of war," declared Lieut. Col. E. L. Miller, U. S. Army district commander, Sixth Service Command, speaking before the Marquette Rotary club Monday.

He pointed out that attempting to escape has always been considered a sort of "right" of war prisoners everywhere. The German prisoner here tries it if he gets a chance and American prisoners in Germany do the same thing," he said.

Asked by a Rotarian whether the Army is having much difficulty from this source, he declared that when the 600 German prisoners first came to the Peninsula they were unfamiliar with the sort of country they would encounter in an escape. He said a number of those making the attempt had been members of the Nazi youth movement in Germany and they wanted to find out whether they could subvert in the woods as a result of their training in the youth movement.

"I have talked to some of them since, and I think they are convinced they are better off in the camp," he said.

Work 8-Hour Day

Answering questions regarding the claim that prisoners are worked only three hours a day, he said:

"That is absolutely false. They work eight hours a day in the woods, but, of course, you must remember that we do not make the weather. If we sent them out when the woods are wet, the illness which would result would overtax our hospitalization facilities."

He said the prisoners accomplish in the woods about half the work that would be done by civilian workmen.

to visit for a week. Mrs. Mae Znoski and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Vallar of Iron River were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Deloria from Friday until Sunday.

Close to Starvation

HITLER and Goebbels are boasting that Germany will be the last country in Europe to starve when outright famine conditions arrive. Such conditions are on the way now—in fact, they are in effect in countries like Greece, a country given over largely to grape and olive culture and importing more than half its food in normal times.

where so many human beings are always close to the food margin of safety, and famine with all its horrors is bound to come. Today mankind is not only playing the fool by sacrificing its best and bravest to the god of war, but is paving the way for a slaughter of innocents who little deserve so terrible a fate at the hands of a bankrupt world.

WPA'S END AND A DEBT

The end of the Federal fiscal year, on midnight of June 30, brought two brief news stories from Washington that were reminders of the past and warnings for the future. One chronicled the official end of WPA; it is gone, over and done with, dead and buried. The other is that the Federal debt has passed the $200,000,000,000 mark.

Take My Word For it . . . Frank Colby

LET'S LEARN A NEW WORD News story: " . . . and when the highway had been interdicted by artillery fire, our troops advanced, severing the Nazi supply line."

World War In The Air

BY MAJOR A. P. de SEVERSKY German blood is flowing under the axes of Heinrich Himmler and his Gestapo killers. The full story of the attempted assassination and the revolt movement in the Third Reich is not yet available, but there can be little doubt that the drama marks the beginning of the end.

Even if the insurrectionary mood is temporarily quenched in blood, it means that morale is cracking. There is a Russian proverb to the effect that a fish begins to rot in the head. It is precisely in the head—among its top-shelf leadership—that Germany is beginning to disintegrate.

But this holds true only while the belief remains that ultimately the tables will be turned, that more losses will be hurled on the enemy than he is at the moment imposing on your own country. Morale deteriorates rapidly when that belief begins to evaporate. In Germany, it has been the historic task of air power to bring home the truth of the country's hopelessness, of the futility of resistance.

THE BATTLE OF BRITAIN—It was in the air that Germany lost its first major engagement, the Battle of Britain. It was there that the German people realized that their whole concept of the use of aviation was erroneous. They had staked all on the wrong strategy, tactics and equipment. In a democracy, public opinion would have forced Goering and his group either to change or to get out—that is one of the advantages of democracy.

When the combined American and British strategic air forces began to grind down city after city in the Reich, German morale began to give way. It was continually buoyed up by the official promises to retaliate on a terrible scale. The first attempt to make good on the promises came after we had struck telling blows at Berlin. It was then that Germany unloosed its secret weapon in the form of aerial torpedoes.

Those torpedoes did take a heavy toll from our bombing forces in the skies. But we succeeded in bringing escort fighters into the tactical picture, thus augmenting the firing power of our air armadas. We were able to keep our losses down to an average of about 10 per cent over Germany—a loss which we were able to absorb.

German morale thereupon took another nosedive. It had to be revived with new promises of new secret weapons. The Nazis even "dared" us to invade, indicating that the Luftwaffe would demolish any attempt to invade Fortress Europe. When we finally struck, the fact that the Luftwaffe was bluffing became evident to any German child. We had apparently whitened German air power, on the ground and in the skies, so seriously that we could assume undisputed control over the Channel and the beachheads.

—LOST RAY OF HOPE—A new source of hope for the Germans was provided by the expectation that the Allies would have to divide their air power between support of the invading armies and strategic bombing of Germany, so that relief from the air threat would be found at last. In reality this hope, too, failed. By this time we have accumulated sufficient air strength to enable a continuation of effective bombing of Germany even while supporting our invasion forces.

Well, Well! He's Still Toying With It

Good Morning! INTO THE PAST

By The Bugler 10 Years Ago—1934 Sidney Wood Jr., and Francis Shields blasted Australian axes. Jack Crawford and Vivian McGrath off center courts at Wimbledon in remarkable rally to carry the United States into the challenge round against England for the Davis Cup.

20 Years Ago—1924 America's new immigration law is bitter disappointment to the three million Russian refugees spread throughout European countries. Under it only 1700 Russians may enter this country annually and not more than 170 in any one month.

Brings holdings of Bonifas company in Gogebic and Ontonagon counties to 95,000 acres.

HERE'S THE VERSE — And here is the poem which, in a foreword, is said to "accurately and authentically depict present-day Italy," and because of its merit won from officers permission to have copies made and distributed to each man in the company. It's called:

Panorama of Italy If I were an artist with nothing to do I'd paint a picture, a composite view Of historic Italy, in which I'd show Visions of contrast, the high and the low, There'd be towering mountains, a deep blue sea, Filthy brats yelling "caramella" at me; High-plumed horses and colorful Two-toned tresses on hustling tarts. I'd show Napoleonic cops, the carabinieri, Dejected old women with too much to carry; A dignified oldster with a Balboa beard, Bare-bottomed bambinos with both ends smeared; Castle and palace, opera house too, Hotel in the mountains, marvelous view; Homes constructed of brick, sand and mud, Scabby people with scurvy and crud; Chapels and churches great to behold, Each a king's ransom in glittering gold; Poverty and want, men craving food, Picking through garbage, practically nude; Stately cathedrals with high toned bells, Covered shelters with horrible smells; Moulding catacombs, a place for the dead, Noisy civilians clamoring for bread; Palatial villas with palm trees tall— A spiking hovel, mere hole in the wall. Revealing statues, all details complete, A sensual lass with sores on her feet; Flowers blooming on the side of a hill, A sidewalk latrine with privacy nil; Narrow-gauge sidewalks, more like a shelf, Butt-puffing youngster, scratch-

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON (Lt. Col. Robert S. Allen now on active service with the Army)

Washington—Shortly after the turbulent turmoil of the Democratic convention, seasoned party leaders sat down to figure the chances of victory next November. Most of them are optimistic, say that Roosevelt can sweep the country. However, certain others are not.

Among the doubters is New York's Mayor La Guardia who, though technically not a Democrat, has swung with Roosevelt each time, and who knows his New York better than most. Fiorello has sent the party leaders private warnings that Roosevelt will have a tough time carrying New York State. He is worried.

Another who privately shares that view is the new, liberal young head of Tammany Hall, Ed Loughlin. Shrewdest observer among old-time Democrats is Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, whose service in the House of Representatives date back to the days of the last war. Reminiscing recently about Woodrow Wilson's election battles, Speaker Rayburn said: "In 1918, the Democratic Administration was winning the war. Everyone knew it. The country knew it. Wilson was at the height of his popularity. Yet, one week before the Armistice, we lost the House of Representatives. And there wasn't anything in the world we could do about it. When people decide they want a change, they change."

A lot of other Democratic leaders aren't as open-faced as Sam Rayburn. But privately, they aren't too happy over the possibility that, if the war ends in Europe, the war leader would become only one-half a war leader, and that one-half the reason for not changing horses in mid-stream would be removed.

—NAZI PEACE FEELERS—Reports that the German generals revolted against Hitler only after peace negotiations with Russia failed, have caused Washington diplomatic sources to reveal that, on two previous occasions, German peace feelers were extended to Russia. In fact, there was a very deep fear in U. S. Army-Navy circles that Russia might be tempted by these earlier offers, especially during the days when no second front had been started and when Stalin was bitter against the Allies for not starting it.

Nazi peace offer number 1 was made several months after Stalingrad, during the early winter of 1943. The peace proposal was made by the Japanese Ambassador in Moscow, who, being neutral, was in a position to lay the matter before Foreign Commissar Molotov. Just what was in the Nazi olive branch is not definitely known, though Hitler was reported ready to give back to the Russians all of their pre-1939 territory except the Ukraine. Molotov is reported to have torn up the offer and thrown it into the waste-basket.

Nazi peace offer number 2 was made in the summer of 1943 in a villa on the outskirts of Stockholm. It was made by Hans Thomsen, German Ambassador to Sweden and former charge d'affaires in Washington. Thomsen, who speaks perfect English, was born of a Norwegian father, and married a Hungarian who was openly bitter against Hitler and constantly damned him at Washington dinner parties. Washington hostesses never knew whether Frau Thomsen really hated Hitler or was putting on an act to show that there could be freedom of expression among Germans.

The Lyons Den

By Leonard Lyons

NEW YORK, July 26 (AP)—Dept.: Mary Martin, star of "One Touch of Venus," was at a party this week, where she met the Marquis de Casaforte. "May I compliment you upon your excellent performance," said the Marquis. "Oh, thank you," said Miss Martin. "When did you see the show?" "I've seen it," said the Marquis, "332 times." "That means every performance since the show opened," gasped Miss Martin. "That's right," the Marquis agreed. "I play the violin in the orchestra at your theatre."

MOVIES: In "Since You Went Away," Claudette Colbert reads a card on which is printed a short poem, "Now We Are 3—My Darling, My Darling's Darling and Me." . . . Producer David Selznick, who wrote the screen play, is the author of this poem also. He wrote it for his wife when their first child was born. He mailed it, hopefully, to Good Housekeeping magazine. The editors published it, and, in editors' sent the multi-millionaire producer a check for $5.

BUSINESS DEPT.: Charles Rapp, an agent who specializes in booking entertainers for the mountain resorts, was reminiscing of the strange experiences which have befallen him. Clearest in his memory is the recollection of the phone call he once received from the Japanese Embassy, inquiring about entertainers for a party. The Embassy informed him that two representatives would be sent to his office to discuss the matter. . . . The two Japanese embassy aides arrived at Rapp's office wearing silk hats and frock coats. While Rapp was conferring with them another agent arrived. Rapp began the introductions: "You know . . . Sure, sure," the clerk-puffing agent interrupted, causing the Japs to flee. "I caught your act at the Roxy last week. Great juggling routine."

LOCAL NEWS: Quentin Reynolds' speech, which he delivered at the Democratic convention, was written in the University Club on Fifth Avenue, where everyone else is a Republican. . . . The Duke and Duchess of Windsor received their first curtsy since their arrival. It came at the Colony, from the Countess di Frasso, whose friends watched her dip low, and then asked: "Aren't you ever coming up?" . . . Col. Hans C. Adamson, who was rescued with Eddie Rickenbacker, went before the Retirement Board. Col. Adamson was delighted to learn that he still is qualified for duty, and will continue, on limited duty. . . . Frank Gervasi has gone to Italy, to write the story of the Italian Underground, of how they lived and worked during the Occupation.

POLITICS: If the Republicans pursue the plan to campaign against the New Dealers as a group of tired, aging old men, the Democratic National Committee will remind Gov. Dewey that the man he himself selected and campaigned for as Lieutenant Governor, the one man he chose as his successor in the event he should go to the White House, is Joe Hanley. Lieut. Gov. Hanley is older than President Roosevelt.

LANGUAGE DEPT.: At the Bretton Woods Conference, the French delegate met the Brazilian delegate to discuss the relative positions of their country regarding the post-war plans being arranged. . . . The Brazilian delegate started the discussion by speaking faultless French. . . . The Frenchman interrupted: "I am unable to continue this discussion." "But why?" asked the Brazilian, in French. "Because," replied the Frenchman, "I can't speak Brazilian."

Pvt. LaFleur is the son of Mrs. Anna LaFleur, 321 South Nineteenth street.

News From Men In The Service

Aviation Cadet Farnum D. Ferguson, 23, son of Mrs. Wm. Offen of 1316 Putnam St., Detroit, Mich., was recently transferred from the Naval Air Station, Minneapolis, Minn., where he completed his primary flight training, to the Naval Air Training Center, Pensacola, Fla., for intermediate flight training.

Upon completion of the intensive course at the "Annapolis of the Air" Cadet Ferguson will receive his Navy "Wings of Gold" with the designation of Naval Aviator, and will be commissioned an Ensign in the Naval Reserve or a Second Lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserve.

Pvt. Robert C. Priester, 18, recently completed training in Browning light machine guns at Camp Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif., and expects to be transferred shortly. He received the rating of sharpshooter.

Pvt. Priester received his boot training at the Marine Training Station at San Diego, Calif., after entering training March 1, 1944. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Priester, 317 S. 16th street.

A Ninth Air Force Service Command Unit, European Theater of Operations: With the so-called impregnable wall shattered by the Allies' lightning invasion of France, operations at this Ninth Air Force service command unit, commanded by Colonel Clyde C. Harris, Jr., has taken on greater significance.

At this base in the European theater of operations, the bombers, fighters and troop carriers of the Ninth Air Force are put in fighting trim for renewed assaults against the hard-pressed foe. A highly-co-ordinated team of Yankee craftsmen — mechanics, ordnance, instrument specialists, warehouse handlers, etc. — have been assembled here to keep the giant aerial invasion forces in the skies.

One of the machinists who keep 'em flying here is Staff Sergeant Carl Erickson, 29, of Escanaba, Mich. The air corpsman performed similar duties for Briggs bodies in Detroit before donning khaki in February, 1942. He arrived overseas in the summer of 1943. Sergeant Erickson's wife, the former Leone Skradski, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Erickson, live at 201 South Seventeenth Street.

One of the medium bombers which had provided support for the Allied invasion blow landed here recently with its fuselage punctured by 86 flak holes, and its tail, stabilizers and bomb bay doors badly shot away. To the ordinary layman, the ship would seem to have had its last battle and was obviously destined for the salvage heap. But not to the crews of crack technicians on hand here. Here was a challenge not to be ignored.

Specialists took over, sealed the flak holes, replaced the damaged parts and in a matter of hours the same ship was ready for renewed assaults against the enemy.

In addition to its servicing task, this air field also supplies the medium bombers and fighters for their all-important job of destroying enemy installations and providing a protective umbrella for Allied ground forces battling their way through Germany's iron-ringed defenses.

Paper Company Stock Is Offered for Sale

Munising, Mich.—A block of 14,427 shares of Munising Paper company five per cent cumulative preferred stock, at $20 par value, was offered for sale at $18 a share Monday of this week, according to a story published in a Milwaukee newspaper. The story announcing the offering follows:

"The Wisconsin company announced Saturday that a block of 14,427 shares of Munising Paper company five per cent cumulative preferred stock, $20 par value, is being offered at $18 a share Monday. Bacon, Whipple and company, Chicago, are associated with the Wisconsin company in the distribution of the stock.

"The Munising Paper company organized in 1942, manufactures and sells fine writing papers. The company's plant consists of a pulp mill, paper mill and a power plant and is located on Lake Superior at Munising, Mich.

"For seven years, 1937 to 1943, average annual net profit was $171,000 or 3.67 times annual dividend requirements on the 46,540 shares preferred stock outstanding July 1, 1944.

"The balance sheet figures as of December 31, 1943, indicate net working capital was the equivalent of $37.74 per share of preferred stock outstanding in the hands of the public of December 31, 1943, while indicated equity book value was $51.87."

Soo Woman Drowns In Power Canal

Sault Ste. Marie, July 26—The body of Mrs. Charles Lindstrom of 210 Easterday avenue was found at 2:20 a. m. today, held by the current against the east rack in the forebay of the Michigan Northern Power canal, about 40 feet east of the spillway, by Peter Nielson, a plant guard.

At the time the body was removed, its identity was unknown. Not until Carlton Lindstrom, a son, reported his mother missing at the police station at 6:35 was the identity of the body ascertained.

Charles Lindstrom, husband of Mrs. Lindstrom, unable to find his wife after searching from 5:30 this morning, called his son, who identified the body, which had been taken to the Bailey-Newhouse funeral home, as that of his mother.

She went to bed last night, her husband reported, apparently normal, and must have dressed sometime during the night and left the house. She was fully clothed when found, and was wearing a short dark jacket.

She is survived by her husband, Charles; one son, Carlton Lindstrom, and two daughters, Mrs. Harold (Theresa) Embs and Mrs. Oscar (Frances) Bristol of Chicago. She also leaves seven grandchildren. A foster sister, Mrs. Norman Parks, of Woodstock, Ont., also survives.

Mrs. Bristol is in the city, a patient at the War Memorial hospital, and Mrs. Embs, who has been visiting in Escanaba, is expected to arrive here today.

Mrs. Lindstrom was born in a suburb of London, England, on May 27, 15 years ago, and was married on Christmas Day, 1899. She came to the Sault in 1934 and had lived here since.

She was a member of the First Baptist church, the Baptist Ladies

Use Fern Pillow For Sound Sleep

By Fern Berry
Shingleton, Mich.—If you are a victim to the summer sneezes and snuffles try doing as many folks do and make a pillow of the sweet fern branches and leaves for summer sleeping purposes. Gather only the fresh, small stemmed branches and add if you wish a few pine needles to the pillow. It is said by many to induce sound sleep. Certainly a night spent on the pine and fern grown plains means a night of sound sleep and a morning of fine feelings. These fern and pine pillows make fine gifts for city folks at Christmas time.

Report Change In Citizenship Law

Children born abroad of American fathers now may, due to changes in the law, secure certificates of citizenship in their own names, according to R. W. Gearing, Sault Ste. Marie, naturalization examiner, when in Escanaba recently. The former law did not provide for the issuance of such certificates.

The law formerly in effect did not provide for the issuance of certificates showing the citizenship of persons, who were citizens at birth abroad, although it did (and still does) provide for the issuance of certificates to persons who derive citizenship through the naturalization of another person. Persons born abroad of citizen fathers may now secure certificates of citizenship in their own names under the new law.

The applicant must produce documentary evidence of the citizenship of the parent and a birth certificate to show their relationship. In the absence of such evidence the court will accept school records, passports, etc., if the applicant is a native of a European country from which it is impossible to obtain documents owing to the war.

The fee for filing the application is $5.

SGT. HARRIS, 20, SERIOUSLY HURT

Escanaba Youth Serving With Air Force In England

Sgt. Theodore J. Harris, 20, turret gunner with the Eighth Army Air Force, was seriously injured over England on July 13, according to a message received from the war department by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Harris, 1302 First avenue south.

A graduate of the Escanaba high school, Sgt. Harris joined the service in December, 1942, and went overseas in April, 1944.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris received on Tuesday a letter dated July 17 from their son, in which he stated he "was getting along as well as could be expected." He did not mention the injury, however.

With The AEF

Kenneth L. Dixon

WITH THE AEF IN ROME. (delayed) (P)—Any one with a couple of days to spend in Rome can become an international political reporter. There's nothing to it—just listen to the conversation around town, record it and draw a couple of conclusions.

And there you have the Italian political situation.

Like this: "The hope of Italy lies in peaceful progress," intoned the Italian speaker in the park. "The days of force are passed, the era ahead must be one of education not violence." The crowd applauded violently.

Now there's a definite trend set. Simple isn't it.

"At first," continued the speaker, "in order to insure the peace of the era, we have rid ourselves of the Fascists (prolonged booing and hissing). We will have a purge and eliminate those who have led to our downfall." The crowd went into a hysterical roar of applause at the word "purge."

Hum-Well-Up—must be another trend. Yes, undoubtedly. Well, let's get on with the story. Let's see:

"There are no real Fascists left in liberated Italy," said the Rome university student seriously, "only those who were fooled by Fascism and those who were afraid of it. And the former see their mistake and the latter no longer are afraid."

Now there's an important point. Probably one that's been ignored by the experts, too. That's the trouble with these hot shot political reporters—always overlooking the simple obvious things. No Fascists left. Now to continue: "What's the matter with the allied military government?" asked the professor. "They're putting the old Fascist leaders right back into power, and they're letting themselves be wine and dined by all the wealthy class who supported Fascism. No wonder the rank and file of Italians lost respect for the allies when they see all these Fascists still running things, and fooling the British and Americans just like they fooled the Germans."

Well, let's get out of the park. "At long last Italy is of a single mind the Italian people are united they know what they want," said the merchant. Quick, make a note of that. That's important. And now what's that Italian newspaper saying? Listen: "I have made an account and there are actually 21 separate political parties and they're all fighting each other."

Is that so? Well, gotta be going, gotta be going, see you later. "The allies should set up a Democratic form of government in Italy for the duration of the war, that's what the Italian people want," said the elderly man sitting at the sidewalk cafe table. Now there's a simple solution of the whole thing.

"You know the kind of capitalistic system they have in England and America?" shouted his young companion. "That would be impossible. After all, Fascism is only the ultimate form of capitalism. Thank God, Italy is beginning to realize that at last. And so is America and England they are changing too."

Now there, see how important the simple little things become. "How stupid," said the stenographer, "Fascism is not capitalism at all but a bad form of Socialism. The important thing in Italy today is that the good points of both Socialism and Communism are finally being combined in a new compromise movement."

"Ah, Communism," said the student, screwing up, "have you heard how the Russians are doing today?"

Well that's all there is to it. Anybody can be a political reporter in Rome. Just check a few trends and draw a few conclusions and there you are. It's easy.

Harebells Bloom Throughout Summer

By Fern Berry

Shingleton, Mich.—Among the glory of summer color in Upper Michigan which includes the glowing red berries and the mountain ash berries, the asters and the goldenrod, one small aristocrat blooms and blooms on the plains all summer long. Not only on the lower stretches of the sandy pine and oak plains, but high among the rocks and rocky ledges along the lake shore.

This is the harebell or blue bell. These flowers are identical with the bluebells of Scotland, famed in song and story. They thrive at a high altitude and likewise on the level plains. They live in the better soil of the humus filled rock crevice and the white soil of the plains.

These flowers are easily transplanted to home gardens but in no garden do they have the same dainty beauty as when seen swaying on their slender hair-like stems on the plains or high up in some rock crevice.

Walter Hornstein Purchases Sloop

Walter Hornstein of Garden has purchased the 27-foot enter rig sloop, "Kitty G", from Otto G. Reich, Bloomington, Ill., candy manufacturer. The boat will be delivered by truck from the Lake Superior yacht yard at Marquette to Mr. Hornstein at the Escanaba yacht basin probably today.

The "Kitty G" is one of the Bon Voyager class, designed by Edgar Van Dyke, marine architect, and built at Philadelphia in 1929. It is a sister ship of the Junonia, purchased recently by Dr. Harvey Johnson of Marquette from Dr. Daniel Hornbogen of Marquette.

The sloop has full cruising accommodations and sleeps four persons. Reich, the former owner, has been using the boat during his vacations at his summer home on Grand Island, near Munising.

Non-Highway Gas Coupons Are Being Issued to Farmers

E-2 and R-2 non-highway gasoline coupons are now being issued to farmers and other non-highway users and will be valid concurrently with the E-1 and R-1 coupons now in circulation. The Office of Price Administration announced.

In informing gasoline dealers and distributors that the new coupons are out, and good for bulk purchases of gasoline, OPA described them as follows:

The new R-2 (five gallon) coupons are printed in blue ink. The old R-1's are printed in purple ink.

The E-2 (one-gallon) coupons are printed in black ink, instead of the orange ink used for the E-1's.

Both E-2's and R-2's bear the notation "non-highway." In addition, the E-2 coupon will carry the legend: "Not good for obtaining gasoline to propel registered vehicle." Although the longer legend does not appear on the R-2 coupon, because of printing difficulties, both coupons are valid only for bulk purchases and neither may be exchanged for gasoline delivered into the fuel tank of a motor vehicle.

E-2's and R-2's, like E-1's and R-1's, are all serially-numbered and issued in strips.

Besides the serially-numbered coupons that now make up the bulk of non-highway rations, a few old-type unnumbered E's and R's are still in circulation, OPA added.

Danforth 4-H Dairy Club Meets Monday

Danforth, Mich.—The Danforth Dairy club will hold a regular meeting on Monday, July 31, at the Danforth school. Elmer Johnson, local club leader, will have charge of the meeting.

WATER FOR HEALTH

Drink lots of water. At least eight glasses of water a day is average, but some people require more than others. You'll need more in hot weather or if you work in high temperatures.

CARD CARE

Playing cards, like so many other items of recreation are on the hard-to-get list these days. Consider these typical boners that ruin your cards and banish them from your home:

Don't:

Jam cards till they fit when you shuffle. They will split and fray, making them difficult to play with.

Play with the corners while you are trying to make up your mind which card to play. That really gets them dog-eared.

Snap the cards down on the table with a great flourish.

Eat sticky stuff while you are playing. The cards will become soiled.

Leave them within reach for the youngsters to maul.

SCIENTISTS GO TO PARICUTIN

Will Study Extinction Of Plant Life By Volcano

Scientists of the Cranbrook Institute of Science at Bloomfield Hills, Michigan and the University of Michigan are now enroute to the new volcano, Paricutin, in the state of Michoacan, Mexico, where they will undertake the first basic studies to be made in extinction of plants and animals of volcanic action.

"After laying out the first season's sample areas and taking a census of the species surviving now, studies can be made in later years to find out what species are the first to recolonize the land, how they do so, and where they come from," said Dr. Robert T. Hatt, director of the Cranbrook Institute of Science.

El Paricutin was born February 20, 1943, in a Tarascan Indian's corn field. Since then it has built up a cone of almost 2000 feet high and through lava flows and spreading volcanic ash, has depopulated large area. It is now reported to be threatening Uruapan, a town of 20,000 persons, 15 miles away. Despite the inconvenience the expedition will make its headquarters within a half mile of the volcano.

Members of the expedition, in addition to Dr. Hatt, are: Dr. William Henry Burt, Curator of Mammals at the University of Michigan; Mr. A. N. Goodard, mineralogist and a trustee of the Cranbrook Institute of Science and Mrs. R. T. Hatt, photographer.

INSPECT COURT HOUSE TODAY

State Fire Marshal To Check For Hazards Under New Law

The buildings and grounds committee of county board of supervisors will meet at 12 o'clock this morning with an officer of the state fire marshal's office for an inspection of the court house to determine whether fire hazards exist.

The buildings and grounds committee is composed of Supervisors Mathias Peterson, chairman, Mayor Sam Wickman of Escanaba, and Wynand Nieuwenkamp of Gladstone.

Inspection of the court house to determine whether a fire hazard exists is under the provisions of a law passed at the last special session of the Michigan legislature, in which the state fire marshal's office under the Michigan state police was made responsible for the inspection of all county buildings in which public records are stored.

The storage facilities and methods of storing public records, and the adequacy of such storage places to resist destruction will be inspected by the officer from the fire marshal's office.

Following the inspection the officer will make a detailed report on his findings. One copy of the report will go to the county board of supervisors and another to the state legislature. The report will include recommendations for overcoming fire hazards and storage practices.

In many counties the accumulation of public records has made it necessary to store them in court house basements, in attics, and in other unsuitable places. In some cases, because of lack of vault space, valuable public records have been destroyed by fire.

St. Nicholas

Shower Party

Mrs. Mose Beaudry and Mrs. George White and their friends of Milwaukee were hostesses at a post-nuptial shower party held last week at the Mose Beaudry home in honor of Mrs. Alfred Lindberg, the former Inez Warren of this community, whose marriage took place recently at Winona, Minn.

The evening was very pleasant spent in playing card games, after which a tasty lunch was served.

Following the lunch, the bride displayed her many beautiful and useful gifts.

Mrs. Lindberg spent a week in Milwaukee at the Mose Beaudry and George White homes. Her husband Pte. Lindberg is stationed at the Army Air Field at Dayton, Ohio.

Local Boys Meet In Italy

Two St. Nicholas soldiers, Sgt. George Depuydt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pamphil Depuydt, and S. Sgt. Rene Bouillon, son of Emilie Ver-Silpe, recently met near Rome in Italy.

The boys haven't seen one another since leaving the states nearly two years ago. After getting together the boys set forth in search of another good friend, Walter Nelson, of Perkins, but were unable to locate him—instead they ran across another old acquaintance, Orelle Beauchamp of Perkins.

The boys rejoiced and said, "it was the nearest thing to being back home."

Inspects Certified Fields

D. L. Clanchan of the U. P. experimental station, Chatham, made the first inspection of certified potato fields in this community Monday and Tuesday.

Certified fields were inspected at the following farms: Adolph Lippens, Phil Lippens, Louie Heynens, Dona Barron, Rene Ver-Brighe, Emilie DeBacher, Peter and Rene Vermote, Peter Jodocy, Henry VerBrighe and Jules Vandamme.

Briefs

Misses Mary and Madeline Cafmeyer are spending a week in Milwaukee at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Doon. The girls are cousins of Mr. Doon.

Miss Dorothy Schuman has returned to Los Angeles, Calif., following a week's visit with Miss Germaine Depuydt at the Depuydt home.

Mrs. Rene Bouillon is visiting friends in Manistique before returning to her home in Holland, Mich. Mrs. Bouillon spent two weeks here at the Pamphil Depuydt and Dona Barron homes and with friends at Perkins.

MISSING IN ACTION

Ironwood — Cpl. Waldemar Knoll, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Knoll, 709 East Ayer street, has been missing in action in France since June 21. His parents were informed yesterday by the war department.

Cpl. Knoll entered the army in February, 1943, and was stationed most of the time while in this country at Camp McCain, Miss., and on maneuvers in Louisiana. He went overseas May 16 and was in England until the invasion.

He was graduated from St. Ambrose high school in 1941 and attended Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton until he entered the service. His father is general superintendent of the Youngstown Mines Corporation here.

The new aqueduct at Caracas, Venezuela, cost approximately $24,000,000.

Dewey Has Good Chance To Win, Childs Thinks

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

CHICAGO—When several hundred reporters get together for a big event such as a national convention, one thing they do is to interview each other. In lobbies and corridors a kind of new stock exchange goes on, and with it a great deal of speculation on the part of political correspondents.

As a matter of fact, since these men come from all over the country and keep close tabs on their respective communities, you get a pretty good idea of the state of the nation by talking with them. They register with a high degree of accuracy the barometric highs and lows of the political weather back home.

The consensus of opinion from these men, as I got it, is that Dewey has very little chance against Roosevelt. They hedge, of course, by saying that an abrupt shift in the course of the war might mean an abrupt shift in the political fortunes of the two men. But their own preferences and prejudices to one side—and most of these men have the perspective and the good sense to try to filter out their own feelings—they do not think much of Dewey's chances.

Coincides With Poll

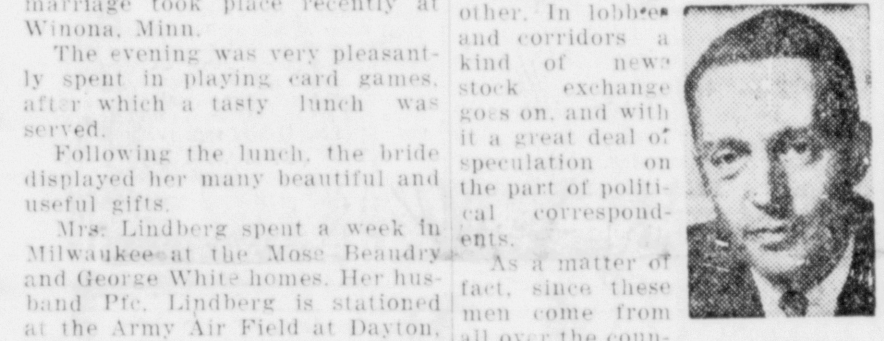

This happens to coincide with the latest findings of what seems to me the most scientific and careful poll in the country—that taken by Elmo Roper. The latest Roper report shows, roughly, that Roosevelt's political hold on the country today is about half again as great as it was immediately following his own renomination four years ago. In other words, his lead over Dewey, as of today, is considerably more substantial than was his lead over Willkie at a comparable period in 1940.

While I have a great respect for Roper's findings and perhaps even greater respect for the shrewd, horseback judgments of the men who write pollies around the country, I take all this with many doubts. Serious weakness in the Democratic organization, which are not apparent to the naked eye, may nullify the sentiment prevailing today.

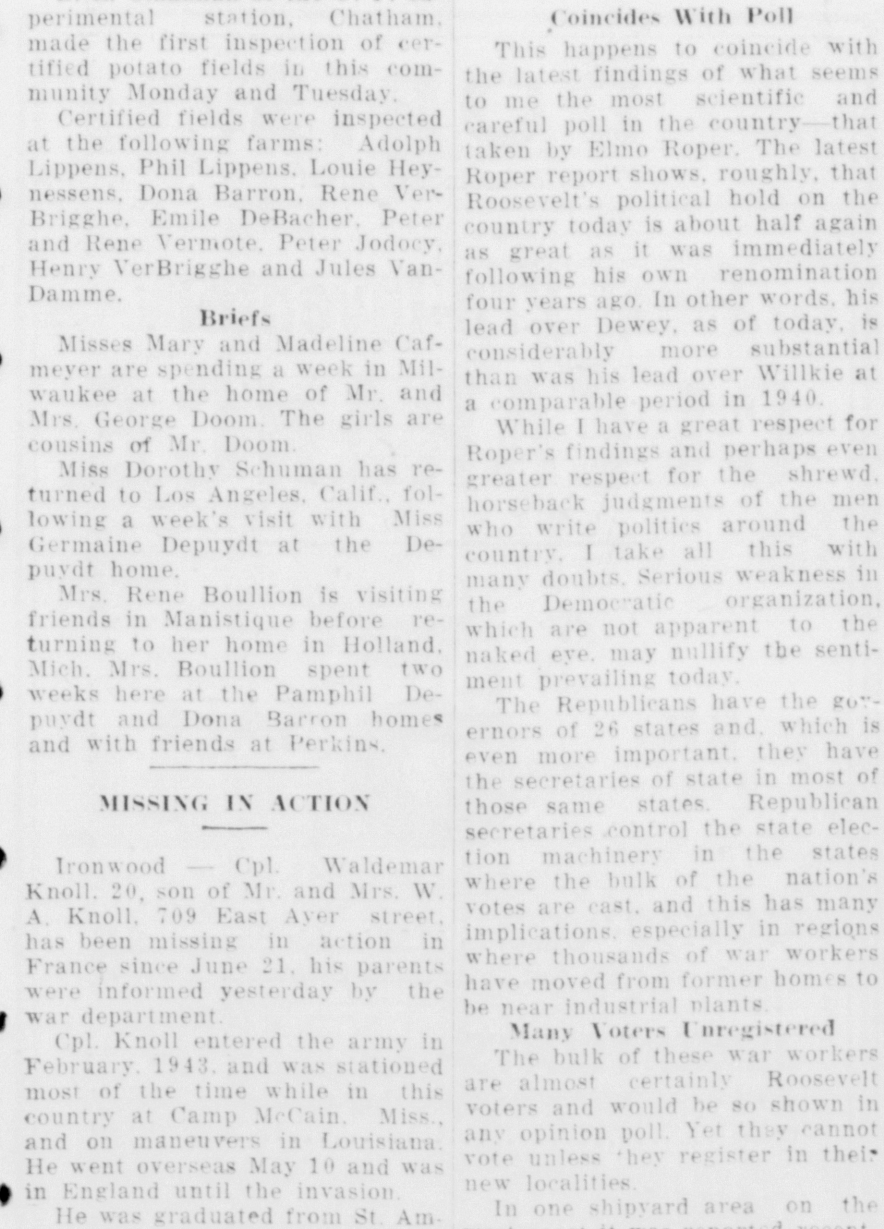

The Republicans have the governors of 26 states and, which is even more important, they have the secretaries of state in most of those same states. Republican secretaries control the state election machinery in the states where the bulk of the nation's votes are cast, and this has many implications, especially in regions where thousands of war workers have moved from former homes to be near industrial plants.

Many Voters Unregistered The bulk of these war workers are almost certainly Roosevelt voters and would be so shown in any opinion poll. Yet they cannot vote unless they register in their new localities.

In one shipyard area on the west coast it was reported recently that, of 45,000 workers, only 1,400 were registered to vote in a recent primary election. With the opposition in control of state election machinery, the Democrats and the labor unions may not find it so easy to register their followers. In some states it is discretionary whether people can be deputized to travel about getting registrations on curbstones.

use on the beachhead, from tanks to pistols.

We have scores and scores of separate ordnance companies at work on the beachhead—each of them a complete firm within itself, able to repair anything the army uses.

Ordnance can lift a 30-ton tank as easily as it can a bicycle. It can repair a blown-up jeep or the intricate breech of a mammoth gun.

Some of its highly specialized repair companies are made up largely of men who were craftsmen in the same line in civil life. In those companies you will find the average age is much above the army average. You will find craftsmen in their late 40s, you'll find men with their own established businesses who were making $30,000 to $40,000 a year back home and who are now wearing sergeant's stripes. You'll find great soberness and sincerity, plus the normal satisfaction that comes from making things whole again instead of destroying them.

You will find an IQ far above the average for the army. It has to be that way or the work would not get done.

You'll find mechanical work being done under a tree that would be housed in a $50,000 shop back in America. You'll find men working 16 hours a day, then sleeping on the ground, who because of their age don't even have to be here at all.

Ordnance is one of the undramatic branches of the army. They are the mechanics and the craftsmen, the fixers and the suppliers. But their job is vital. Ordinarily they are not in a great deal of danger. There are times on newly won and congested beachheads when their casualty rate is high, but once the war settles down and there is room for movement and dispersal it is not necessary or desirable for them to do their basic work within gun range.

Our ordnance branch in Normandy has had casualties. It has two small branches which will continue to have casualties—its bomb-disposal squads and its retriever companies that go up to pull out crippled tanks under fire.

But outside of those two sections, if your son or husband is in ordnance in France you can feel fairly easy about his returning to you. I don't say that to belittle ordnance in any way but to ease your worries if you have someone in this branch of the service overseas.

Ordnance is set up in a vast structure of organization the same as any other army command. The farther back you go the bigger become the outfits and the more elaborately equipped and more capable of doing heavy, long-term work.

Every infantry or armored division has an ordnance company with it all the time. This company does quick repair jobs. What it hasn't time or facilities for doing it hands on back to the next echelon in the rear.

The division ordnance companies hit the beach on D-Day. The next echelon back began coming on D-Day plus four. The great heavy outfits arrived somewhat later.

Today the wreckage of seven weeks of war is all in hand, and in one great depot after another it is being worked out—repaired or rebuilt or sent back for salvage until everything possible is made available again to our men who do the fighting. In later columns

Steamship Sarnian Completely Salvaged

Houghton—Salvage of the S. S. Sarnian, a large Canadian grain carrier registered out of Port Arthur, Canada, which was grounded on Point Isabelle off Bete Gris in a severe wind and snow storm on the night of Dec. 16, 1943 was made certain Saturday afternoon when the steamer was brought into Houghton and tied up at the Chodas-Paoli dock by the K. H. Strait Co., salvage engineers.

The vessel was towed to Houghton by the lighter R. E. Deville of Whitehall, Mich., owned by the wood, Calif. is visiting her daughter, Sandra, and her parents Mr. and Mrs. John Cavadas.

Joseph Michel of Fort Mountain visited over the week end with his wife and family here. Emory Martin wife is employed in Detroit and arrived here to spend a few days preparing to move his family to Detroit.

Ronald Turbith visited last week in Escanaba with his cousin, Elsworth Vian.

Strait company, and a small tug, the Lawrence Jr., of Saginaw. The wrecking crew left Point Isabelle at 6:30 Saturday morning and arrived at the Chodas-Paoli dock about 4 o'clock the same afternoon coming in under tow on an even keel.

The S. S. Sarnian was purchased by the K. H. Strait Co. after she had been abandoned by the underwriters, and salvage operations were started immediately by lightening her of a cargo of barley. About two thirds of the 164,000 bushel cargo was removed while the vessel was being dewatered. Minor repairs were made to the hull. The Sarnian was freed from the reef Friday night and arrangements were made to bring her to Houghton under tow. The vessel was in good condition upon arriving at Houghton.

Worry Clinic

With Case Records Of A Psychologist

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE D-209: Angela T., aged 27, is a beautiful brunette secretary.

"I've been married for three years," she began our interview, "and have no children."

"Last month I left my husband because I think I am in love with my employer."

"My husband and I do not have many similar interests, nor have we ever had any satisfactory marital relations."

"As regards the other man, however, everything is quite satisfactory. Our interest also lies in the same channels."

"I still see my husband now and then. But when he tries to make love to me, I freeze up as I have always done since our marriage."

"Whether this is voluntary or not, I can't say. But I worry over my husband, Dr. Crane, because I feel I made a bargain and must keep it at all costs."

Confessions of a Wife
"Yet if I keep this bargain, what about the other man in my life? I want to be with him so very much. I feel I'd rather die than lose him."

"I've never felt that way before in all my life. My husband never affected me like this."

"But the fact that I've married somebody I don't want to hurt, keeps disturbing my peace of mind."

"I keep on growing more and more confused. I thrill more to the touch of my lover, yet I feel sorry for my husband and don't want to hurt him. Dr. Crane, what would you advise?"

Happy Marriage Based on Compatibility
Happy marriages are based on compatibility. But without an intelligent understanding, two people who ardently love each other at the time of the marriage ceremony, may soon begin to quarrel or seek a divorce.

If it were not for the prudery of modern America, Angela's husband would long ago have been taught the proper marital technique for increasing his wife's devotion to him with each succeeding week or month of marriage.

But hypocritical America, which permits front page headlines of the alleged Errol Flynn rape case, or the lurid Dempsey divorce revelations, or the Charley Chaplin-Jean Barry quarrel over the paternity of her baby, will deny young people access to the facts of life in a formal high school or college course. It will eliminate such vital facts from Sunday school groups and Boy Scouts.

And then it will affect horror at a case like Angela's which is definitely traceable to lack of facts about marital relations.

How to Prevent Divorce
Angela thrills to her lover, partly because he is possessed of the novelty and uniqueness of the clandestine love affair.

She sees him only in romantic situations, and not when he is grumpy and lathering his scrubby chin for his morning shave.

But her conscience is still manifesting itself, as her confessions reveal. By means of my bulletin named below, her husband won her back again. He need never have lost her in the first place, however, if he had taken this bulletin on his honeymoon. It is better to lock the barn BEFORE the mare is stolen.

You can get my bulletin, "Sex Problems in Marriage," for a 3c stamped envelope, plus a dime. Get a copy and learn how to corral your wife's affections from the start.

Alabama Girl Is the Bride of Cpl. Robert Lied

Of interest here is the ceremony which took place on Thursday, July 20, in Tuscaloosa, Alabama, uniting in marriage Miss Laurie Gene Pettis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Clarence Pettis, and Cpl. Robert Lied, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Voght of Escanaba.

The marriage service was solemnized at 8 o'clock in the evening in the Brandon Methodist church on Tenth street, in the presence of relatives and University friends, by Dr. William Graham Echols of the Wesley Foundation.

Ferns and palms were used with floor baskets of white gladioli to decorate the altar and to complete a chosen motif of green and white. Miss Patty Lou Caylor of Shepovort, La., presented a program of appropriate nuptial music as the guests were being seated and she used the traditional marches for the processional and recessional. Miss Annette Townsend sang "Because" just as the bride approached the altar.

For her marriage, the bride wore an ensemble of heaven blue crepe, the short jacket opening over a frilly blouse of white orkandy and lace. Her accessories were of white and her flowers a corsage of pink rosebuds and stephanotis.

Immediately following the ceremony the couple left for North Carolina where the bridegroom is stationed at Fort Bragg.

The bride is a graduate of Clarke county high school and is a senior at the University of Alabama. Cpl. Lied received his education at Northwestern college, Watertown, Wis., and the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa.

Mrs. Voght attended her son's wedding.

Ralph Sheehan For Director's Post

Four members of the Gladstone Lions club, representing the local unit and district 10, will leave here Sunday to attend the annual Lions International convention which will open Monday at Chicago.

Vince Johnson and Don Chase, selected as delegates, and Walter Tang, an alternate, will represent the Gladstone club at the five day session, while Walter Van De Weghe, a member of the local unit and past district governor, will represent district 10.

Primary purpose of the local delegation in attending the meeting, according to Johnson, is to work in behalf of Ralph Sheehan, Marquette, who is a candidate for international director this year. The 10th district, comprising the Upper Peninsula, has never had a representative on the board of directors and all clubs in the district are uniting in an effort to assure Sheehan's election, Johnson said.

The bi-weekly meeting of the club will be held at 6:45 o'clock tonight at the Yacht club. The program will include moving pictures, among them a film which will be shown by Willard Wikom.

London's Normal Life
Upset By Robot Bombs

BY ROBERT D. FOSTER
LONDON, ENGLAND, (delayed)—Many times in the days of the 1940-41 blitz on London, I wondered what life in London was really like. As I sat at my newspaper desk in California, reading reams of copy filed from our great press service over here, my imagination was given a good workout.

Now I know, and imagination has nothing to do with it, for I am in the thick of it, along with a great number of officers and men of the United States Army. When the Germans introduced their pilotless planes over Southern England and London, we became in some extent Londoners.

The two week February blitz gave most of us our first taste of air raids, many of us heard the firing of anti-aircraft guns and occasionally the detonation of a bomb or two in the distance. True we were a bit upset, but like our allies, we carried on quietly. Today it is a bit different, we were just surprised and astounded by this new weapon as the rest of London's millions. Some of our men have lost their lives, a great many have been dug out of the debris of bomb wrecked buildings. We have learned about heavy and light rescue work, for we are helping the great civil defense organization in their work of saving lives.

A few days ago, I and Bob Cromie, one of the good war correspondents on duty in this theater of operations, were standing at one of this city's busiest intersections, when "Moaning Minnie" (air raid siren) started her grim warning. Almost immediately the noise of that intersection became unbearable. After three or four weeks of this business, your ears become tuned to only one thing, the rhythmic drone of the "buzz bomb." Any other sounds that meant nothing a few months ago, become amplified several hundred times, apparently trying on purpose to drown out the sound of the flying missile.

American nerves, like English nerves, needed some readjusting to make living with this new menace possible. During the first weeks officers turned up at work with blood shot eyes, spent the day yawning. The Medical Corps boys dished out mild sleeping pills by the carton. Daily a stream of officers and enlisted men haunted the dispensaries for something to aid sleeping.

Now the people of Southern England have learned the best methods to protect themselves, nerves have steadied and at least during the hours of dark, sleep is coming without aid of the medical department and life is getting back to normal.

Many people not subjected to life with pilotless planes overhead can never fully realize the significance of life in an attacked city.

Life goes on in a normal manner until the wall of the sirens

PLANS MADE TO OPEN CANNERYWill Operate Market
In Connection With Project

Final plans regarding operation of the Gladstone cannery this year were made at a meeting of the canning committee held Tuesday night, at which it was decided to operate a farmer's market in connection with the project.

"The market will be operated right at the cannery site and will be run for the benefit of local residents who do not have victory gardens and yet desire to obtain canning products," H. J. Henrikson, acting city manager said yesterday. He pointed out that people may obtain any of the products for sale on the market and then take them to the cannery to have them processed.

City employees will begin the clean-up program at the factory on Monday and it is hoped to have the cannery in readiness for the first crops, peas and beans, by the end of next week, according to Henrikson. No schedule will be maintained for the processing of food items, but they will be canned as they are brought into the factory.

No decision was reached by the committee at its meeting Tuesday concerning price levels for the various food items, but a schedule will be set up before the cannery goes into production.

According to Henrikson, prices last year varied from six to 11 cents per can and in all probability they will be in about the same range this year. The charge made for canning an item will depend on the condition in which the food is brought to the factory, with items directly out of the garden bringing a higher price than those which are cleaned and ready to be canned.

TAX DEADLINE
IS AUGUST 31Time Limit Is Extended
For Paying Summer
Assessment

Deadline for the collection of summer taxes was extended from August 15 to August 31 by the Gladstone city commission at its meeting this week.

Taxes not paid by the new deadline date will be subject to a four per cent penalty.

Only one other item of business was considered by the city fathers at a short session. A resolution changing afternoon the sprinkling hours from 5 p. m. to 9 p. m. to 4:30 p. m. to 8:30 p. m. was passed. The new schedule covering the remainder of the summer will go into effect on August 8.

The morning schedule will remain the same, starting at 6 a. m. and closing at 10 a. m.

Factory Damaged
Shoes Ration-Free

OPA has announced the release of factory-damaged shoes from the ration list. Dealers may apply for the release from their local ration office for shoes that have been visibly damaged in process of manufacture. Ceiling prices to apply to these shoes are $1.50 per pair retail and $1.20 per pair wholesale.

The action was taken, OPA explained because some dealers have many pairs of shoes on their shelves that are not moving, because people will not pay ration points for damaged shoes. There are comparatively few pair of this type, they said.

A warning was sounded in the announcement that should damages shoes be sold over these ceiling prices, ration currency had to be collected and turned in to the local OPA office within 30 days.

Plans Set For Community Sing

Community sing set for July 31 will begin at 7:15 p. m., on the courthouse lawn. Song sheets will be distributed to those attending with the words of 40 old favorites printed on them. The group sing numbers will be interspersed with overtures and light marches played by the band under the direction of Ferd Gorsche.

Cooperating in the sponsorship are the Rotary club who instigated the idea, the Manistique Women's Club, the Lions Club and the band.

Lions Appoint
Community Sing
Representative

At a dinner meeting Tuesday evening of the Manistique Lions club which was a house warming for the recently constructed cabin of Carlton Siddall on the west branch, Siddall was elected to represent the Lions club in the sponsorship of the community sing July 31 after a resolution passed putting the club on record as being in favor of the project. President Frank Gierke urged all Lions to be present on the courthouse lawn at 7:15 p. m., July 31 and bring their families.

In Memoriam

In Sad but loving memory of our beloved husband and father, Ephraim Brolin, who so unexpectedly passed away July 27, 1943.

One year has gone in grief and pain. Since death came to our home domain. To call a dear one's work well done. And sever hearts that beat as one.

But faith looks onward to that day. When death and grief shall hold no sway. When loved ones gone before we see. And with them reunited be.

SHOWER STOPS DETROIT GAME

Score Tied, One - All In Eighth As Rain Hits
Red Sox Tilt

Detroit, July 26 (AP)—Rain stopped the Detroit-Boston game in the first of the eighth tonight, with the score tied 1-all. Two Red Sox players were on base, and only one away, when the down-pour came.

Hal Newhouse, making a bid for his 16th victory, held Boston to four singles. George Woods yielded the Tigers six hits, including a two-bagger by Pinky Higgins.

The Detroit tally came in the fourth when Eddie Mayo beat out a hit to Bob Doerr, advanced on a single by Roger Cramer and scored from third after Leon Culberson's catch of Rudy Ryno's fly to center.

Boston came back in the seventh when Bob Johnson walked, went to third on Doerr's single and came home after Cramer's catch of Jim Tabor's fly to center.

The Tigers threatened in their half of the seventh, but a double play which nipped Chuck Hostetler at the plate, Newsome to Cronin to catcher Roy Partee, ended the uprising.

Hits by Culberson and Pete Fox boosted Boston's chances in the eighth, but they were washed out by a sudden shower that made the grounds so wet that officials ruled the game could not proceed.

A paid crowd of 5,490 witnessed the abbreviated twilight contest. Boston ————— 000 100 0-1 Detroit ————— 000 000 1-1 (Called with one out in 8th, rain).

Runs batted in—Tabor, York. Two base hit—Higgins. Sacrifice—Mayo. Double play—Woods, Newsome and Doerr. Left on bases—Boston 6; Detroit 5. Bases on balls—Woods 2; Newhouse 5. Strikeouts—Newhouse 2. Umpires—Rue, Boyer and Summers. Time—1:29. Attendance 5,490.

Plan Benefit Game For Injured Player

A benefit softball team with proceeds to go to Bert Goodreau, injured ball player on the L & L team, will be played at Escanaba Wednesday evening, August 2nd. Goodreau broke his leg in a game a few weeks ago when he collided with Don Dufresne, a fellow team member, and is expected to be unable to work for several weeks.

Competing teams will be the L & L major league leaders and an all star team from the Old Timers' league. A report that the old gentlemen were looking for additional words to conner and were secretly assembling an all star team to challenge the major league winners in a special feature reached the officials of the Escanaba Softball Association which is sponsoring the game with the cooperation of the L & L team.

When contacted, the managers of the old timers' admitted that rumor was correct and stated that the team would be most happy to issue their challenge somewhat pre-maturely in order to cooperate in the benefit game. The old timers' league has a membership containing many of Escanaba's most brilliant stars since the sport started, some of whom have established outstanding records for participation on championship teams.

L & L have the utmost respect for the old timers and will start Big Tom Ellegret whose smoking delivery may be a little too fast for aging eyes but the all stars will have to be shown.

Tickets to the game will go on sale to-day and will be available from all managers. No price has been established and purchasers may set their own figure. Proceeds from the game are expected to be substantial as Goodreau has been playing for many years and is popular both with players and spectators for his ability, even temper, and sportsmanship.

Steeler-Card Football Title Hopes Boosted By Discharged Soldiers

BY JAMES JORDAN

Pittsburgh, July 26 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers-Chicago Cardinals National football league entry is casting about for a couple of centers and a name that will fit into headlines, but otherwise the club figures it is pretty well set for next autumn's football grind.

"We've got enough good men for every position but center," Head Coach Walt Kiesling said today, "and with four men recently discharged by the army it looks like we're better off than we've been for a couple of years. But you can't tell what will happen."

Last year the Pittsburgh-Philadelphia combination—they picked up the name of "Steagles"—finished second in the Eastern Division of the league.

Out of 24 men on the roster to date, the Pittsburgh-Chicago combine has 12 men with professional grid experience, headed by Ted Doyle, ex-Nebraska tackle who has played in the big time for seven years.

"We'll play ten league games this year," Kiesling said as he worked on details of the combine's camp which opens at Carroll College, Waukesha, Wis., Aug. 14. "Three of them will be in Pittsburgh and two in Chicago. The rest will be on the road."

"But we still need a center. The only one we have signed so far is Aruwikits, formerly of Duquesne. He's had one year of professional experience."

"I don't know what we're going to call this team," said Kiesling. "There doesn't seem to be any combination of Steelers-Cardinals that can be shortened enough to hit a headline."

The Pirates moved into second place in the National league standings by defeating the New York Giants, 6-5 before 12,909 war relief fans tonight.

Fritz Ostermueller, though he failed to finish, gained his eighth triumph, as Nick Strincevich came to his aid when the Giants loaded the bases with one out in the ninth.

The Pirates jumped into an early lead by scoring a pair of runs in the first inning when Jim Russell tripled in Pete Coscarart and scored on Babe Dahlgren's single. A pair of errors by Bob Elliott allowed the Giants to tie the score in the fourth, but the Pirates came back with a three-run attack off Harry Feldman in the fifth.

Pittsburgh — 200 020 001—6 133 New York — 000 200 021—5 111 Ostermueller, Strincevich and Lopez, Feldman, Fischer, Adams and Lombardi, Mancuso.

U. P. SOFTBALL TOURNAY HERE

August 13 Set As Date;
13 Teams Already Entered

The annual Upper Peninsula softball tournament will be held here Sunday, August 13, with a possibility first round games may be played off August 12 if the entry list is too large for a one-day meet, it is announced by Bevier Butts, U. P. chairman for the state softball association.

Thirteen teams have already registered and paid their fee for the tournament. They are Phillips 66 of Marquette; Bob's Service of Norway; Inland Steel of Ishpeming; Prescott's Local 328, Bay View Recreation and Sallors' Inn (last year's champions) of Ishpeming; Steel Workers of Stambaugh; Kingsford Pirates; White Birch Juniors of Flat Rock; Iverson's Post Handlers; Wells DX; U. S. Coast Guards and L. & L. of Escanaba.

The 13 teams balloted on the tournament site, with seven favoring Escanaba, three Menominee and two Stambaugh. One did not signify a preference.

The deadline for registration for the tourney is August 1 and Butts said "positively no teams will be permitted to participate" unless they have signed up by that date. The entry fee is $3 per team, which will help defray expenses of the meet. Balls and a trophy will be provided by the sponsors.

In event the entry list exceeds 16 teams, Butts said some games will probably be played August 12. Original pinch-hits were to have all teams in class A, the only division in which a state tournament will be held. However, if enough teams indicate a desire to compete in class B or C, tournaments may be set up for those classes.

Braves And Reds
Divide Twin Bill

Boston, July 26 (AP)—After knocking Buckey Walters out of the box for a 9-2 victory, the Boston Braves dropped the nightcap by an 8-5 margin today while splitting a double header with the Cincinnati Reds.

Red Barrett held the Reds to seven hits and only one earned run, the result of successive two-baggers by Max Marshall and Goe Walker in the first inning of the opener.

Ira Hutchinson and Al Javery gave the Reds a total of 11 bases on balls in the second game but the Braves closed in determined fashion by driving over three runs with five hits in the ninth.

First Game
Cincinnati 100 000 100—2 7 2 Boston — 000 036 009—9 14 2 Walters, De La Cruz and Mueller, Just; Barrett and Hofferth.

Second Game
Cincinnati 102 002 030—8 11 0 Boston — 001 000 013—5 11 0 Gumbert and Mueller; Hutchinson, Javery, Hickey and Kluttz.

Top Browns Make
It Two Straight

St. Louis, July 26 (AP)—The league-leading St. Louis Browns made it two straight over the Philadelphia Athletics to night with a 4 to 2 victory although out-hit by the visitors 11 to 6.

Myron "Red" Hayworth's home run in the fourth inning with two on base provided the winning margin for the home club. Both the runners were on base on walks issued by losing pitcher Luke "Hot Potato" Hamlin.

Score by innings:
Philadelphia 001 200 000—2 11 0 St. Louis — 001 300 004—6 0 Hamlin and Hayes; Kramer and Hayworth.

Both the Irish and the Trojans had gone through the season undefeated, and it was the windup for both eleven. In the first five minutes little Sol Metzger, "watchdog guard," recovered a Trojan fumble and Markey Schwartz passed to Carideo on first down for the first touchdown.

Bucky O'Connor, a halfback converted to fullback, then ran 80 yards for another score. The Irish added two more touchdowns but they weren't needed to bring victory.

Bill McKechnie, who for more than 20 years has been considered one of baseball's greatest strategists, is reported to be on his way out in Cincinnati as attendance figures drop. It appears that the paying guests have tired of his brand of baseball.

This, despite the fact that he took a team which finished last in 1937 and since has been in the first division six years, has won two pennants.

The past week more than seven million dollars, was wagered on six tracks by turf fans. This topped by about one-third million dollars the total on nine tracks the week previous.

Other coaches already signed include Earl (Dutch) Clark at Seattle, Robert Mathews at Portland, Bill Sargent at Hollywood, Dan Barnhart for the Los Angeles Mustangs and Gus Henderson for the Los Angeles Wildcats.

The newly organized American Professional Football league is about ready for its Pacific coast opening next fall. Two more coaches have been signed. They are Ed Storm, former National Pro league coach, who will coach the San Diego club owned by George Zaharias, husband of Babe Didrikson, and Marty Bell, former Notre Dame halfback, more recently coach of Loyola university, Los Angeles, who will coach the Oakland team.

Receipts at the War Fund game were estimated at $35,000, but Harry Grabner, Sox vice president, said an official total would not be available for a couple of days because numerous unused tickets would be paid for and swell the total.

The 13 teams balloted on the tournament site, with seven favoring Escanaba, three Menominee and two Stambaugh. One did not signify a preference.

The deadline for registration for the tourney is August 1 and Butts said "positively no teams will be permitted to participate" unless they have signed up by that date. The entry fee is $3 per team, which will help defray expenses of the meet. Balls and a trophy will be provided by the sponsors.

In event the entry list exceeds 16 teams, Butts said some games will probably be played August 12. Original pinch-hits were to have all teams in class A, the only division in which a state tournament will be held. However, if enough teams indicate a desire to compete in class B or C, tournaments may be set up for those classes.

Braves And Reds
Divide Twin Bill

Boston, July 26 (AP)—After knocking Buckey Walters out of the box for a 9-2 victory, the Boston Braves dropped the nightcap by an 8-5 margin today while splitting a double header with the Cincinnati Reds.

Red Barrett held the Reds to seven hits and only one earned run, the result of successive two-baggers by Max Marshall and Goe Walker in the first inning of the opener.

Ira Hutchinson and Al Javery gave the Reds a total of 11 bases on balls in the second game but the Braves closed in determined fashion by driving over three runs with five hits in the ninth.

First Game
Cincinnati 100 000 100—2 7 2 Boston — 000 036 009—9 14 2 Walters, De La Cruz and Mueller, Just; Barrett and Hofferth.

Second Game
Cincinnati 102 002 030—8 11 0 Boston — 001 000 013—5 11 0 Gumbert and Mueller; Hutchinson, Javery, Hickey and Kluttz.

Top Browns Make
It Two Straight

St. Louis, July 26 (AP)—The league-leading St. Louis Browns made it two straight over the Philadelphia Athletics to night with a 4 to 2 victory although out-hit by the visitors 11 to 6.

Myron "Red" Hayworth's home run in the fourth inning with two on base provided the winning margin for the home club. Both the runners were on base on walks issued by losing pitcher Luke "Hot Potato" Hamlin.

Score by innings:
Philadelphia 001 200 000—2 11 0 St. Louis — 001 300 004—6 0 Hamlin and Hayes; Kramer and Hayworth.

Both the Irish and the Trojans had gone through the season undefeated, and it was the windup for both eleven. In the first five minutes little Sol Metzger, "watchdog guard," recovered a Trojan fumble and Markey Schwartz passed to Carideo on first down for the first touchdown.

Bucky O'Connor, a halfback converted to fullback, then ran 80 yards for another score. The Irish added two more touchdowns but they weren't needed to bring victory.

Bill McKechnie, who for more than 20 years has been considered one of baseball's greatest strategists, is reported to be on his way out in Cincinnati as attendance figures drop. It appears that the paying guests have tired of his brand of baseball.

This, despite the fact that he took a team which finished last in 1937 and since has been in the first division six years, has won two pennants.

The past week more than seven million dollars, was wagered on six tracks by turf fans. This topped by about one-third million dollars the total on nine tracks the week previous.

Other coaches already signed include Earl (Dutch) Clark at Seattle, Robert Mathews at Portland, Bill Sargent at Hollywood, Dan Barnhart for the Los Angeles Mustangs and Gus Henderson for the Los Angeles Wildcats.

The newly organized American Professional Football league is about ready for its Pacific coast opening next fall. Two more coaches have been signed. They are Ed Storm, former National Pro league coach, who will coach the San Diego club owned by George Zaharias, husband of Babe Didrikson, and Marty Bell, former Notre Dame halfback, more recently coach of Loyola university, Los Angeles, who will coach the Oakland team.

Receipts at the War Fund game were estimated at $35,000, but Harry Grabner, Sox vice president, said an official total would not be available for a couple of days because numerous unused tickets would be paid for and swell the total.

THREE YACHTS ARRIVE HERE

Gerry Mac II, Glorene II
And The Chief Stop
At Escanaba

Recent arrivals at the Escanaba Yacht Harbor are three motor cruisers, "Gerry Mac II," 24 foot cruiser, owned by L. P. Cross, of Gary, Ind.; "The Chief," 24-foot cruiser, Chicago Yacht club, owned by Hugo S. Erickson, Sr.; and "Glorene II," also of the Chicago Yacht club, owned by Henry W. Engsten, sr., of Oak Park, Ill.

Aboard "Gerry Mac II" which will remain in the waters for several days are Mr. and Mrs. Cross, Claude Moore, a son of the H. W. Moores of this city, and his wife and daughter, Dorothy, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Braten and daughter, Beverly, all of Gary, Ind.

Aboard "The Chief," which left the Harbor yesterday are Mr. Erickson, who is senior partner of the Industrial Molded Products company, and his wife; E. C. Wiklund, owner of the auxiliary schooner "Moonlight," which was here last August, and Mrs. Wiklund.

Members of the party aboard the 44-foot "Glorene II," which will leave today, if the weather is favorable, include Colin Gordon, of Washington, D. C., vice president of the Quaker Oats company, and Mrs. Gordon; and Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Angsten, sr., daughter, Gloria, and son, Mark Timme, Henry W. Angsten, jr., Aviation Cadet, United States Navy, was aboard, but left the ship at Ephraim, Wis., to report for primary training at Norman, Okla. Mr. Angsten, sr., is president of the Core Steel company.

"Gerry Mac II" docked here Sunday. "The Chief" arrived Monday, and "Glorene II" arrived in port on Tuesday.

Obituary

PETER YOUNG

Funeral services for Peter Young were held at St. Patrick's church yesterday morning, with Rev. Fr. Thomas A. Kennedy officiating. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery. The pallbearers were Jacob Franzen, George Thompson, Edward Boyle, Paul Paquet, John Kalligan and Tim Curran. Out-of-town persons attending the funeral included Anton Young, Sault Ste. Marie; Mrs. Anna Spuda, Milwaukee; and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Young, Ensign.

MRS. DONALD DUFFY

Funeral services for Mrs. Donald Duffy, the former Mae Risher, will be held at a solemn requiem high mass at 9 o'clock this morning at St. Anne's church. Rev. Fr. Joseph E. Guertin will be celebrant. Burial will be made in the family lot in St. Anne's cemetery.

GARRY JOHN RING

Funeral services for Garry John Ring, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Ring, of Cornell, were held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Anderson funeral home, Rev. A. L. Colgrove of the Pentecostal Assembly officiating at the rites. Burial was made in Fernwood cemetery at Gladstone. The pastor's text from Second Samuel, 12th chapter, 23rd verse, was: "I shall go to him; he shall not return to me." Mrs. Walter

Woodfill Predicts Huge Postwar Tourist Trade

BY ARTHUR W. STACE

Recreationland—What's going to happen to Michigan's $400,000,000 recreational industry after the war?

"It will face a rich harvest," say members of the Michigan Tourist council. It will have awaiting the reaping, the most bountiful crop of dollars ever garnered by the tourist and resort business of the two peninsulas. But it must be ready to gather in the harvest. It must prepare to receive, to entertain, to service the outing-hungry millions of the middle west and of the south who are eager to flock to the restful, attraction-filled Michigan playground as soon as the strains of war are relaxed and as soon as the bans on travel are lifted.

Here is how the future is seen by a leading member of the council, W. Stewart Woodfill, far-

Hansen sang two hymns, "Gathering Huds" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." Miss Linnea Sundman was accompanist.

Pallbearers were Bernadine Randall, Vina and Vivian Walce and Evelyn Lancour.

RALPH MENTZ PETERSON

Final rites for Ralph Mentz Peterson, infant son of Seaman 1/c and Mrs. Ralph Peterson, were held at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the chapel of the Anderson funeral home. Dr. C. Albert Lund of Bethany Lutheran church, who officiated, took his text from Mark, 16th chapter, 14th verse, "Suffer the little children to come unto me and forbid them not; for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

Burial was in the family lot in Lakeview cemetery.

Seaman Peterson, of the United States Coast Guard, stationed at Algiers, La., father of the baby, was among those attending the services.

Warner A. Lund, Marinette Court Official, Resigns

Marinette, Wis.—Circuit Judge Arnold F. Murphy this afternoon appointed Mrs. Arnold Kuntz, former deputy, as Marinette county clerk of circuit and county courts to fill the unexpired term of Warner A. Lund, who submitted his resignation to Judge Murphy this afternoon.

Lund has been under fire since the Wisconsin Department of Taxation presented an audit to the Marinette county board of supervisors on July 18, showing a $10,043 shortage in the clerk of courts account.

A special committee was named by L. E. Ness, board chairman, at the July 18 meeting to study the audit and start removal proceedings against Lund. The committee met yesterday and authorized Fred Edwin of the town of Peshtigo, its chairman, to ask a warrant charging Lund with embezzlement of county funds.

The warrant had not been issued at mid-afternoon.

The committee also petitioned Judge Murphy to suspend Lund from office pending a hearing on the embezzlement charge, but Judge Murphy took no official action this morning and Lund submitted his resignation to Judge Murphy this afternoon after a noon-hour session in Judge Murphy's chambers attended by Murphy, County Judge William F. Haase, and District Attorney Norman B. Langill.

Yesterday the committee also authorized Chairman Edwin to notify Lund's bonding company of the shortage in county funds and to take steps to recover the shortage from the bonding company.

Cones Appear Like Strings of Beads

By Fern Berry

Shingleton, Mich.—If you chance to pass a tamarack swamp, or a few of the trees in the summer time, take time to look well at the dainty cones of this tree. They look for all the world like strings of beads hanging on a Christmas tree and early in the summer they are delicately colored—like coral.

Later on they became darker and are less noticeable among the feathery foliage of this tree.

The tamarack is a most interesting tree as it resembles the evergreens during the summer, turns to a golden yellow in the autumn and sheds its needles and in the spring it is one of the most beautiful trees in Michigan when it puts out its fresh new needles.

which was created at the last session of the legislature at the suggestion of the Michigan tourist and resort planning committee of the state postwar planning commission, has planned its advertising campaign with a view to war conditions and to the possibility of the European conflict being ended this year. Its present season advertising has been confined to near-at-home areas to attract war workers seeking needed recreation without the necessity of long travel. Its postwar campaign, already carefully worked out, aims to meet the competition of other recreational regions.

But the council thinks more than advertising is necessary to further Michigan's recreational industry, as will be told in articles to follow.
